What Is a Teacher?

Is he a man who knows everything and, therefore, is able to "impart" knowledge to everybody that comes along on any subject? Is he a man who is confined to a little one-horse, backwoods school for life and should, therefore, be cut off from the progressive world? Is he a man who occupies the chair of political economy in the scientific University and walks the street from his mansion to his recitation room with the divine halo of "Professor" shining around him and returns to his home and not know how to carry a bucket of milk to the pigs? Is he a man who must give Roark's theories from memory and tell on what page each can be found or else he is not a teacher? Is he a man who must be "kind" to my children at school and "beat" them to study when they choose and whip everybody else's children if they don't to the mark?

Well, then, what is he? The inquirer can best satisfy himself by first finding out what the teacher is not. The poor fellow is so smothered up in the wild delirium of every conceivable mind that he is almost suffocating for the want of pure breathing air!

In the first place we must confess, positively, that he is a human being, and has no qualities that is not attainable by all other people. His instincts are no more capable of telling you whether the earth would ever gain up twenty-four hours lost time in its revolutions around the sun, if it were suddenly stopped, than anyone else's instincts would be. Neither is he any more gifted to tell you why a kettle of liquid air will boil on ice than anyone else.

The teacher is not the one who can recite the most verses from Page or Roark without stopping. Take the so-called teacher who tells that Roark says: "Be kind and gentle to the pupils and not do anything that would hurt their little tender hearts," and this same "teacher" goes into a large country school and repeats the above story to a grown boy who is five and one half feet high and weighs one hundred and fifty pounds and who has just knocked one of his fellow boys on the head with a rock at recess. Do you "persuade" this robust boy by being "kind and gentle" to him? The boy goes home and tells his parents that the teacher is wholly unfit to govern the school. And he is. Yet this "teacher" tells you that Roark said so, and, and you must do it!

What a teacher!! The truth of the matter is, this fellow has learned Roark's methods "by heart" and hasn't sense enough to apply them. Roark meant to offer suggestions for the teacher to apply, as the application fit the case, and Roark also supposed that the teacher had some ideas of his own and, by the teacher reading Roark's ideas and mixing them with the teachers own, the teacher could thus form a broader conception of true teaching.

The teacher is not the man who confines himself to text books. If a teacher does not see any more existing between him and the child than what is laid down in the text book he does not deserve to be called a teacher and should therefore lay aside his professional name. In American history if the teacher does not see any more in the text than the mere fact that Jefferson wrote the Declaration of Independence and it was signed by Adams and Franklin he falls far short of his duty. In Geography the mere fact that coffee grows in South America is of no value to the child unless he is taught why it will not grow in Canada. In reading, if the pupil is not made to feel the expression: "Give me liberty or give me death," the whole process of the teacher and pupil has lost its aim. In Arithmetic, the mere fact that five and three are eight is no of value to the pupil unless you show him that if he has five dollars and exerts himself enough and saves what he makes he will make three more dollars after awhile to add to his original amount. In Grammar, the mere fact that a "noun is a name" is of no benefit to the pupil unless you show him that he was named Frank in order to distinguish him from his brother John.

The teacher is not a man who pleases everybody. If this was his whole theme he might as well quit his business and make a general canvass of his community and see how good a conversation he could put up to everybody he met. Neither is he a politician. If he was he would soon be teaching a Democratic school and the Republican children would all be staying at home. On the other hand he might have the patronage of those who believe in expansion and the conservatives would be against him.

The teacher does not make the "The Methods of Teaching" his entire study either, for, if he did, he would soon become a superannuated pedagogue brim full of "shows" and entirely ignorant of the "whys." He would become thoroughly proficient as to the manner of presenting facts but he would become entirely ignorant of the facts themselves. Hence, you see he would be unconsciously undermining himself.

This you see the process of trimming off the great mass of what the world calls a teacher might be continued on and on until, finally, you might get him to showing nearer in his proper sphere. It is presumed that the reader will readily see the affirmative more readily by giving the subject a negative presentation.

In short, the teacher must be amply possessed with the world-wide requisites of good, common sense. He is neither to be too easily led, nor is he to be too repugnant. He is neither to be too smart, nor too reserved. He is neither to be a man who thinks the world cannot get along without riches nor is he to be a man who thinks that the world is moved only by those who began in poverty. He is neither to be a man who thinks the world cannot get along without him, nor is he to be a man who thinks that the world would be perfect if he was only just out of the way.

A Card.

Mr. Editor:

I want to state through your columns that it has been reported that I objected to Bro. Harve Anderson's funeral being preached at our church, but it is not true. I did speak to two or three of the members about it, after it was given out to be preached on the fourth Sunday. I said that it ought to be on another Sunday, and advised his wife to that effect, and also gave her my reason for it. As being one of the deacons of the church, I thought it my duty to speak where I did and my advice seem to be satisfactory with her, and so that was all right. I had not learned that it was my duty to go all around and talk with everybody, both saint and sinner, on the church business and duty. And neither do I want to know it. For that is one great trouble we now have. We have our business too much mixed up for the good of churches.

Now, in conclusion, I wish to say that I am not opposed to funerals, but would be glad that more were preached if it would keep so many that are living from dodging the truth. If you want to know any more about it come to me and don't go to some one else. I am just a very small man. BILLEY KIRBY.

DAHLONEGA, SEPTEMBER 3, 1903

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

The state tax has been fixed at five mills.

The city taxes of Gainesville are $100 this year.

Milledgeville's first bale of cotton last week brought 15 cents.

Be sure and come to the Farmer's meeting here on 13th inst.

It turns out that Conso! Magelsen was not killed as reported—only fired at, but escaped uninjured.

A storm swept Grand Cayman Island last week, destroying over 100 houses and wrecking 27 ships.

Last week in Charleston, S. C., two negro undertakers had a fight over a corpse which each one claimed for burial.

The Calven vagrancy law will clear Georgia of all her loafers if the officers do their duty, and be worth thousands of dollars to the state.

The price of flour has advanced in Gainesville. Two sacks taken from Andoe & Bell recently cost J. M. Mooney $75 or 12 months in the chain-gang.

The relief committee in Gainesville last week distributed $5,500 among the tornado sufferers who are yet disabled, leaving $7,000 of the relief fund on hand.

Gov. Terrell has issued his proclamation declaring Monday, Sept. 7, which is Labor day, a legal holiday. This is good news to vagrants for they will be able to loaf one day without being on the watch for any officer.

Presidents, governors, and other exalted dignitaries may cry out against the mob, but as long as the rapists commit their devilish crimes Judge Lynch will continue on the bench, truthfully remarks the Cobb County Courier.

Down at Ocilla, Ga., five negroes were bound over in one day for vagrancy under the Calven act, among them was one who claimed to be a preacher in charge of a church but he was put in the same path with the sinners and all marched along together.

At Cuero, Tex., last week a negro was standing on the gallows ready to start to heaven (according to what he said) and a notice of a reprieve of two days was received from the governor while the sheriff was adjusting the black cap. And now if that negro fails to reach his destination the governor will be to blame for it.

Uniform text-books are getting so thick around the capitol that it is almost impossible to walk into any office without stumbling over a large stack of them. They are to be found upon the desk of every member of the state board of education, and the office of the state school commissioner is piled high with them, says the Constitution.

Walter L. Middleton, general auditor of the Tallulah Falls Railroad, who was in Atlanta last week said plans are now being made for building a string of hotels from Cornelia, Ga., up through Tallulah Falls and the mountains of Georgia to Franklin, N. C. The North Georgia mountains are looked upon as one of the most important summer resort sections in the South.

The daily papers are all right if you want them, but it is the weekly paper that advertises your business, your schools, your churches, your numerous societies, sympathizes with you in your adversities and rejoices in your prosperity. In short, it is your weekly paper that mentions the thousand and one items in which you are interested during the year and which you do not find in the daily papers.—Dillon Argos.

Will Return Them to Grand Jury.

Mr. Editor:—

In reply to a note in last week's Nugget concerning a rocking which took place near Hightower Baptist church, will say the statement was mostly true except Mr. McDougle running and hollowing.

The writer was the one who received the rocking, but not with a very good relish.

If the grand jury want their names they can get a part of them and they will not have much trouble in getting them as I can give them a part of the names now, and will put myself to considerable trouble to get the case before them.

I will not mention the names now, but the writers name can be had at the Nugget office.

This rocking was done, from what I can find out by experienced hands, and the grand jury will have to take hold of it before it can ever be checked. For such business to go on will say "stop having night meetings" and might as well say stop every thing that is good and let them take the country by the heels and give them a down pull, and let every thing go to the devil at once.

I will go so far as to say that the case of which I speak, was the strongest mark of cowardice I have ever been acquainted with. The road was full of young men and not a person with the writer, nor a thing except a very small pocket knife to fight with, and to cap it all, it was after night. Slip around like a thief at night to harm a person who never did them one bit of harm in the world. If the grand jury don't take hold of such as this what will the country come to? They are sworn to put in such violations as come under their knowledge, and I am determined that this shall come under their knowledge.

The writer thinks it all came from some of the young men wanting to go with a young lady, and I would advise the young men to work with the young lady, not rock the young man who goes with her.

"A stitch in time saves nine" and a prosecution now perhaps would cause the young men to lead a different life.

It Wasn't Henry's Still.

McCAYS, TENN.,
Aug. 30, 1903.

ED. NUGGET:

I see in your paper of this week that you say they went up in Chestnut and got my still. Now, Mr. Townsend, I consider this a great injustice to me, as I have quit the whiskey business several years ago and have been at this place at work for the past nine months. This still, it is true, was near my house but it was not on my land and I had nothing, whatever, to do with it.

I will consider it a great favor if you will correct this for me, as I am out of the whiskey business and never aim to have anything more to do with it. So please correct this for me and greatly oblige.

Your friend,
HENRY SEABOLT.
NOTE BY THE EDITOR.—One of the officials told us that the still belonged to Mr. Seabolt is why we published it. Very glad to hear that Mr. Seabolt has quit the business.

Mill Talk.

ED. NUGGET:

Messrs. Harris Gilstrap and Ashley Laprade are erecting a fine merchant mill, grist mill and cotton gin on Wahoo, in Quillian's district. The foundation is on a rock, not sand. A wise man's plan, not a fool's. This means much convenience to the people of Hall and Lumpkin. Those gentleman mean business.

Good will to all.

The committee appointed to select a new name for Harmony Grove has decided on the name Commerce.

On Monday in Atlanta Judge Broyles sent 47 alleged vagrants to the tower. Pretty good days work.

At Pratt, Kan., Judge J. Ellis, undertook to cure dyspepsia by fasting. After 87 days he cured it by losing his life.

Two preachers, one white and the other a negro, were arrested in Atlanta last Sunday for preaching on the streets without license.

In Person county, N. C., last week, groans were heard coming from the coffin of a woman who had been shipped a long distance. She was alive but died in a short while.

We learn that during a storm a few days ago three houses were blown away at New Holland, Ga., causing much alarm among her people who were visited by that destructive cyclone on the first day of June.

The physicians in the hospital at Augusta have an interesting case to challenge their medical skill. Mrs. William Avery, whose home is at Lincoln, Ga., went there for treatment the other day. She is but a shadow of her former self and weighs only 30 pounds. She is so weak that she can not stand without being supported. Mrs. Avery says she suffers only from weakness and that her appetite is as good as it ever was. Her normal weight is 135, and the cause of the loss of flesh has proved a puzzle to physicians who have attended her.

Try for Health

222 South Pecora St.,
Ontario, Ill., Oct. 7, 1902.
Eight months ago I was so ill that I was compelled to lie or sit down nearly all the time. My stomach was so weak and upset that I could keep nothing on it and I vomited frequently. I could not urinate without great pain and I coughed so much that my throat and lungs were raw and sore. The doctors pronounced it Bright's disease and others said it was consumption. It mattered little to me what they called it and I had no desire to live. A sister visited me from St. Louis and asked me if I had ever tried Wine of Cardui. I told her I had not and she bought a bottle. I believe that it saved my life. I believe many women could save much suffering if they but knew of its value.

Singular Cures

Don't you want freedom from pain? Take Wine of Cardui and make one supreme effort to be well. You do not need to be a weak, helpless sufferer. You can have a woman's health and do a woman's work in life. Why not secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today?

Local News.

Farmers are preparing to sow their fall oats.

We can furnish you either blank or printed visiting cards.

Both our hotels have presented a lively appearance for some time.

Col. Price has bought the "Boy" Thomas stable and lot near the Methodist church.

Let everybody attend the district Farmer's Institute to be held here next Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner Quillian of Land, Ga., spent last Sunday here with relatives.

Prof. Davis occupies the girls dormitory, and Prof. Barnes has charge of the boys hotel or dormitory.

Mrs. J. H. McKee and children have returned to their home in Dahlonega after an absence of more than two months.

There was a hop at Porter Springs Friday night and one at Cuvender's Creek the next. Dahlonega was represented at both.

The fall session of the public school commenced here last Tuesday under the management of Prof. Gilbert, with a good attendance.

Mr. J. F. Miller and lady of Auraria, were in the city a few hours last Friday. Mr. Miller is full of business and never has time to tarry long.

Remember that the reunion of the 52nd Georgia volunteers will be held in Dawsonville the 18th of this month. Dahlonega will be well represented.

Marshal Harbison has moved into what is known as the Gaddis house opposite Mr. H. D. Gurley's store where he will remain till he moves to Gainesville.

Mr. Marks was absent last Sunday and so was Mr. Blackwell and there were no services except at the Baptist church where the pulpit was filled both at 11 o'clock and at night by Rev. Mr. Gunn.

Early last Sunday morning a strange dirty, ragged, barefooted, bareheaded man, passed through Dahlonega, speaking to no one. Really it was most too early for many to see him. We have no idea who he was unless he was some escaped convict.

The first thing Prof. Steed did when he reached Dahlonega, was to get his fishing rod, and in company with Mr. Jek's of Macon, make for the Blue Ridge in search of mountain trout. It is Mr. Jek's first visit to Dahlonega and he is perfectly delighted with the atmosphere, place and people.

Col. Earnest Dart of Brunswick, Ga., arrived in the city last week to see his wife who is spending the summer here for her health, retaining it so rapidly that she will remain until the first of October. Col. Dart attended college here many years ago, and has numerous friends in Dahlonega who were glad to see him here again.

Quite a change has been made in the appearance of the cemetery at this place since it has been cleared of bushes, weeds and briars. Every grave found has been rounded up with dirt and arrangements are being made to haul sand and put over them. Then the committee will turn it over to the city council and little work will be needed hereafter to keep it in good shape.

It seems that Dawsonville is going to have a telephone line but it will not be connected with Dahlonega as was first intended. The Advertiser of last week has this to say in reference to it: "F. M. Meaders, of Dahlonega, representing the Bell Telephone Company, was in town a few days ago looking after posts for the telephone line and said it would be built as soon as posts could be secured. The line will run from Dawsonville via Ashley's Doughty and Silver City to Cumming and connect with Buford, which is on the main line to Atlanta."

The dry weather is cutting the crops short fast now.

The Signal man is about to close a contract with a man in Atlanta for job work to pay a $3.25 board bill.

County School Commissioner Seabolt has completed taking the school census but is unable to give any statistics for awhile yet.

If you wish to locate in a town having a good public school and a first class college where your children can receive a free education, Dahlonega is the place.

All who expect to draw state pensions are requested by Judge Huff to come in between now and the 15th inst. After that time it will be too late to file claims.

NOTICE.—All parties indebted to me are hereby notified to come and settle at once. This August 17, 1903. M. N. Srow, sept24

Prof. Vickery and his family, after an absence of several weeks down the country returned last Thursday afternoon, and the professor has resumed his college duties.

During the summer some parts of the county have had abundance of rain, while others but little, causing the crops to be spotted, and the yield of corn in the dry parts will be small.

Moore Bros. have moved their livery business to the large new stable of Mr. John H. Moore on College street, where they will be pleased to meet their customers at any hour, either day or night.

Mr. J. M. Wright of Huntingdon, Tenn., who is interested in the Jumbo Mine, has been here this week looking over the mining field for the first time, and from every appearance is well pleased with the situation.

Rev. Mr. Blackwell says that the report that he is going to move away from Dahlonega is something new which he had not heard of until he saw it in the Signal. We are glad that it is a mistake for Mr. Blackwell likes the people of Dahlonega and they all like him.

Some persons who make wine here have an idea that they can sell it because they pick the berries themselves. There is a law allowing persons to sell wine without paying any tax where the berries are picked on their own lands, in counties where there is no special law against the sale of intoxicants. But in Dahlonega and the town district as well as other districts in this county, a special law prevents anything from being sold that is intoxicating, and those doing it are violating the law and running a risk of being prosecuted.

The college doors here were thrown open yesterday and Dr. Avis, the new president, commenced his official duties, together with all his assistants, met by many students from various parts of Georgia who have come to reap the benefits of this institution, which was located here on account of our fine climate as well as to give the sons and daughters of the mountains a convenient opportunity of receiving a collegiate education at a mere nominal cost, provided with dormitories for both girls and boys with tables supplied with the best the country affords at very low rates.

For the past few weeks the farmers have had a little leisure time to attend revivals, camp meetings and go to see their kin folks. In speaking of people visiting kin folks reminds us of many years ago when but a lad we were out on a tour of this kind in company with our mother. We went up into the mountains to see an uncle and aunt. It was just about sun down when we reached our destination. Every thing was in confusion. The old man was drunk and out with his gun shooting at one of his boys who was running around in the lot like a scared horse. We didn't tarry but passed on to another relative where we found things more quiet.

Farmers can get a good price for their eggs, chickens and butter in Dahlonega now.

Mr. W. H. McAfee after two or three weeks absence from the city, returned last Saturday.

If it's option blanks, warranted deeds or most any other kind of a blank, we have them on hand.

During the dull season Dahlonega has been very quiet, but she is getting more lively now and is the best town without railroad facilities in Georgia.

Bill Dotson was fined $15 and cost or 60 days in the street chain gang yesterday for rocking Docia Beck's house and running her off from home by Mayor Baker.

Your attention is directed to the advertisement of Dr. C. H. Jones to be found in this issue, who keeps a first class drug store and is ready to wait on you at all hours, either day or night.

Col. Price is spending a good deal of money on Park Street Inn for the purpose of getting it in good shape which he says he is going to deed to his son, Lieut. Fred Price, who is going to wed as soon as he returns from the Philippine islands.

City Marshal Harbison will only act about four weeks longer and the question is, who will be elected to fill his place? Mr. Harbison has made a faithful servant of the people for a long time—a good man and we all regret to lose his citizenship.

Our subscription list still continues to grow for which we return thanks to our patrons. We may differ with you on some things just like other people, but there is one thing certain, you will always find us working for the interest of Dahlonega and Lumpkin county.

Mr. Quinn of Atlanta, who has been spending several days in Dahlonega with his family, said that he had no idea that we had such a delightful climate. The number of visitors to Dahlonega this summer has been larger than at any season before, showing that with a little energy on the part of her citizens we can have every hotel and boarding house full here each summer. At the proper time next year let us all be wide awake in this matter and not let such an important matter go by any more.

The report published last week that Rev. Mr. Phillips of this county had been neglected during his sickness proves to be incorrect, although he made such a statement to us and requested it be published. Col. Price has been very liberal in helping to care for him, and others have assisted. Mr. Asbury of Dahlonega, visited him frequently and rendered much assistance during the old man's feeble condition. Besides giving Mr. Phillips money Col. Price purchased a place for him to live and had his crop worked out, the Colonel's donations alone will amount to about $75 this year. Mr. Phillips has been sick so much that we believe his mind has become unbalanced causing him to forget what his friends really have done for him.

Last Saturday Harris Postell went to the jail to see the "wild man," as he is called, who was recently arrested up in the mountains and lodged in jail here on a peace warrant sworn out by Mrs. Corbin, a widow lady, residing in Chestatee district, where he called for something to eat. Harris says he knows him and states that he made his escape three years ago last June from the officers of Graham county, N. C., while they were taking him to the penitentiary for murder, in company with his brother, and that his name is Andy Carver. This man's actions are very strange. He has not uttered more than two words since he has been in prison and for a week failed to eat a single bite, although victuals were taken and left so he could eat three times a day. Sheriff Davis has written to the authorities of that county in reference to the prisoner.

The students will find college letter heads at J. F. Moore & Co.

The most of the public roads of this county are now being worked.

Marshal Harbison leaves for Gainesville today to be gone until Sunday.

Prof. Gilbert has rented the Stanton house and will move into it right away.

Miss Bailey of Florida, arrived in Dahlonega last Monday and is now attending the N. G. A. College.

Mr. J. O. Shepherd, one of Social Circle's prominent citizens, was among our visitors here this week.

Gen. Warner, who has just returned from another visit to the north, was in Dahlonega last Monday, in company with Mr. Joseph Shelton of New Haven, Conn.

Mrs. Gray of Dalton, was here this week for the purpose of centering her son in college. Whitefield county is well represented in this institution this term.

Mrs. Henderson of Chickamauga, Ga., moved here and located at the Evans house this week, bringing with her eight or nine boys and girls to enter the public school and college. We extend to all a hearty welcome.

It will be seen by an official notice elsewhere in this issue that the county tax assessment is fifty cents on the hundred—17 cents less than last year, which speaks well for Judge Huff. So the state and county taxes will be $1.00.

Anderson & Jones have just received their fall stock of clothing, call and look through before buying, as they expect to give you better goods for less money than anyone in town. They are still giving extra bargains on their old stock.

Solicitor General Charters returned from Clayton last Sunday where he had been attending the Superior Court of that county. The Colonel tells us that the news paper reports of a recent murder being committed in Rabun is all false.

The report reaches us that Prof. J. S. Stewart, former president of the N. G. A. College, is now misrepresenting this institution by saying that the agricultural department is in the hands of two young inexperienced persons, advising parents to send their boys to Athens, telling them that it is cheaper. Now Prof. Stewart knows better than this. Prof. C. W. Davis, the one in charge of the department of the N. G. A. College at Dahlonega, has a wife and 4 children. Was raised on the farm in Tennessee, one of the best agricultural states in the south. Is a graduate of the Tennessee University at Knoxville, and comes from the Washington college, established 125 years ago, where he has had charge of its agricultural department.

Quite a number of citizens of Chestatee district came down last Monday, who are interested in the land deal of the United States Leather Co., for the purpose of turning over their deeds to attorney Cowen of Asheville, N. C. Mr. Cowen is expected here at any moment now, who has been selected by the company to pass upon the titles and pay over the money as fast as they can be examined, assisted by some attorney in Dahlonega, who will be chosen by this gentlemen as soon as he arrives. We understand that the money is already in the bank here for all the lands bargained for by the Leather Co. in this county. As stated before, they will take up blocks of five thousand acres at a time, commencing in the upper portion of the county, and so on till all the titles are passed upon in the county, which will take some time to do it. In Rabun county the company has been examining titles and paying for land since January. It's a big job and those living in the other end of the county will have to be patient. Their time will come by and by.

WANTED.—Ten yearling calves by M. J. Williams.

Go to Dr. Jones' Drug Store and get your fine stationery.

The article in reference to the Auraria school will appear next week.

Dr. Jones' Drug Store is the place to get a nice box of Nunnally Candy.

The public school opened the first day with 125 pupils, and still they come.

Bro. Marks went out into the country to run a meeting last week but failed to create much of a stir.

We understand that the city council will elect a marshal at its meeting next Monday night to fill Mr. Harbison's place, who will resign the first of next month.

Mr. L. A. Harchman, of the Atlanta Journal, one of the greatest evening papers in the South, has been here this week. We are always glad to see the Journal or any one who represents it.

Our town is alive with students. Many of them are here for the first time. We extend to them a most hearty welcome and trust that their stay in Dahlonega will be both pleasant and profitable.

The last tax digest of Lumpkin county shows that several hundred acres of land in this county have been lost. The proper persons should look it up and see that the taxes are paid on it.

Report has it that the cotton crop in many places in this county is very poor on account of the late cold spring. In many places the farmers sowed peas between the rows, where they saw that the cotton would do no good.

Dr. Hardeman, Jackson county's representative, was in Dahlonega last Monday, in company with other gentlemen, taking a look at the college, as he is on the legislative committee for this purpose. The Doctor has been on a visit to Porter Springs.

M. J. Williams has just received a full line of dry goods and notions. Prices right. Also water proof celluloid collars 5 cents each. Towels and napkins of all kinds and sizes. Full line silk ribbon 5 to 20 cents a yard, and a big line of shoes cheap.

We are pleased to state that the mail line has been extended from Gates to Walnut postoffice in this county, and our subscribers at Walnut can hereafter get their papers on Saturdays by a more direct and shorter route than going around by Gainesville, Lula and Cleveland. The schedule took effect yesterday.

We had the pleasure of meeting this week Mr. J. McN. Wright of Huntingdon, Tennessee. He is interested in the Jumbo Mine, and is for the first time looking over our gold fields. He is delighted with what he has seen, and will remain with us for several days. Mr. Wright is an elegant gentleman and we hope this will not be his last visit.

The report has gotten out that there will be a change in the books of the Dahlonega public school. This is a mistake. Books were selected five years ago, and no change will be made in two years, if at that time. Prof. Gilbert says the books are all good. The recent uniformity text book bill, which passed the legislature, doesn't effect the Dahlonega school. The trustees do their own selecting every five years.

Yesterday a young Mr. Henderson of Chickamauga, Ga., aged sixteen, entered the N. G. A. College. Twenty-five years ago this boys' father entered this institution at the same age. The father who was liked so well here is dead now, having passed away ten years ago. We merely mention this matter to show how young men who come here for the purpose of being benefited, like the N. G. A. College, never failing to give it their influence, which is felt for years after they are dead.

Charged With Stealing.

Lewis Ash of this county, who has been hiding out from the officers for some time, was captured up at Mr. Frank Ash's last Sunday night by sheriff Davis and lodged in jail. Lewis seems to be in double trouble. He served in the chain gang in Oglethorpe county twelve months for stealing a pistol, and has only been free about nine months. Soon after his time expired and before he left that county, he stole some clothes from his boss. Then he returned to Hall county and set in to work for a Mr. Lipscomb at a saw mill, and there stole a lot of clothes from this gentleman and started for the mountains. Mr. Lipscomb got on his horse and overtook Ash, secured the things and made him go back and work out a balance he was due him, and let the young man go without prosecuting him. Recently Ash has been over at Dncktown, Tenn., and last week sheriff Davis received a message from the deputy sheriff over there, stating that Lewis had stolen $50 from a room mate on the 37th ult., and jumped his board bill, and to arrest him if he could find him at once. We are told that the punishment for stealing in Tennessee is severer than it is in Georgia. So putting it all together there is a heap of trouble before Lewis, who is about 20 or 21 years of age. He had only $14 when arrested. Later—Ash was released yesterday on a habens corpus before Ordinary Huff. The defendant was represented by attorney Huff who says that the Oglethorpe warrant was a bogus document.

Mining Notes.

We understand that active operations will begin on the Rutherford property at an early day. The Ingersoll & Crissan dredge boat still continues to pick up many nuggets from the bed of the Chestatee river, proving that they are on a good streak.

The old Barlow still continues to show up well. Last week Jackson, Brackett and Castleberry cleaned up 282 pennyweights from about sixteen tons.

During the suspension of the Crown Mountain plant, all the machinery needing attention has been repaired and when the Gorge dam is completed and the power turned on everything will run like clock work.

Down at the Lockhart Messrs. Satterfield and McDonalds find abundance of good ore in the shaft. All three are practical miners and will make a success of it as they have everything in good working order.

Up in Hightower district Mr. Ashley is still doing development work, driving tunnels in search of mica. At the Gaddis place he completed a tunnel the other day without striking the vein, causing him to abandon it. After the hands left Mr. Johnnie Gaddis went in and cut on one side and struck the vein in a very short time.

The new process out West proved the ore of the Dahlonega Consolidated Co., as well as the Standard here to be very valuable. In the handling of the ore there are things used there that can't be had here, and a geologist is expected in a short while to make a test here, and see if a substitute can't be found that will do as well as the one there. If so big money can be made in operating these mines.

It begins to look like business out at Jumbo Mine. A new residence is being erected. A shaft house and shed for engine and a hoist is completed. Shaft No. 1 is down some 25 or 30 feet, and the work in the shaft is being pushed day and night. High grade ore is being piled out on the dump. Shaft No. 2 is also being put down to cut another rich vein three feet wide, some 100 feet east of shaft No. 1. The vein will be cut 20 feet below the surface. We understand that these shafts will be put down as fast as possible and every 50 or 75 feet cross cuts will be made and levels run out on the veins. A suitable plant to work the ore will be erected as soon as the mine is fully developed.

More Religious Thoughts.

HALF WAY, GA., Aug. 20.
MR. EDITOR:

I am alive but run down and at home taking a little rest then I am going out to meeting some where.

I have been to New Holland—got to be in a prayer meeting where they acted rather funny. Had some good prayers and reading and some good talks from men and women, and I liked it all the way in that sort of meeting. Some strange sayings but you know I always look on the better side and think it is all right.

Yes, the writer of this got to preach for them once, and then heard the first holiness sermon I ever heard from a Baptist evangelist, from North Carolina. He preached well, if I am any judge of preaching. If I can't preach much myself I think I can tell when in that fellow does. He said nothing of railroads, nor colleges. Only he was uneducated and wanted everybody else to go to school and learn what they ought to know and then they would be better prepared to understand preaching when they hear it. I just had to say, Amen, for I knew how he felt without education, and having to clear his conscience trying to preach. I want to say here that the best qualification to preach is to have religion right to start with and then study to show himself. A working man of God approved needeth not to be ashamed, and how can a man study the word of God if he cannot read it?

Say, you know what I would do if I was just 40 years old and had my experience? I would, if nothing better could be done, work a week and go to school a week and ponder and meditate on what was learned in the weeks schooling, and then go again and on that way until the English was mastered. I am a thousand times sorry for I have a lot of children that are being kept out of school. I know what it is to be moved by the holy spirit to warn sinners and feed the flock of God and be destitute of an education. So as to be able to use common language to express and explain thoughts that we want others to know is a great blessing. I hope that every young man and woman, boy and girl will strive for a christian education. Thank God, the Methodists, Baptists and Presbyterians, as religious denominations, have gone to a great expense, and also the state of Georgia, to educate her sons and daughters. My friends, hear me as your friend, do all you can to get an education and with it be sure to become a christian, for a man can be a scholar without religion, and he may be a christian and not a scholar. The first will take a man through the world smoothly, but may be lost in the end. The latter will take a man through the world of hardships and suffering and also take him to heaven in the end. So if you will seek and find both it will make a better time in this and in the other world.

Say, dear editor, listen to what a friend has said. Say, you who read the Negro, think of what I have said and read the 7th Chap. of St. Matthew, and do as it says, and then the 15th Psalm, will help. I pray and hope for the servants of God to begin to say, stand in the way and see and ask for the old paths which are the right or good way and walk therein. I am so glad that the gospel of Christ is the power of God unto salvation. Let us preach only the gospel of Christ and God's power will be felt.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine Cured Me.

A shattered nervous system nearly always leads to some affection of the heart, especially where the patient's heart is weak from hereditary or other causes. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is not only a great heart regulator, but it is a blood tonic which speedsily corrects and regulates the heart's action, enriches the blood and improves the circulation. It will build you up just as it did Mr. Crawford whose letter follows, and greatly improve your general health.

"I have been so greatly benefited by Dr. Miles' Nervine and Heart Cure that I freely recommend them as the best remedies for the diseases they are recommended to cure. When I began taking these medicines I weighed scarcely 120 pounds, my nerves were badly shattered and my heart troubled me a great deal. I had pain in my left arm and shoulder, had difficulty in sleeping on my left side, had frequent smothering spells and my heart would flutter and palpitate. I could eat scarcely any kind of food without suffering great distress, and was so restless and nervous that I slept little night or day. Now I am never bothered with my heart, my nerves are steady as a die, I sleep well, eat well and weigh 165 pounds. I am happy now and am trying to make back the money I owe for doctors who did me no good while I was ill."—T. R. CRAWFORD, Center, Texas.

Enjoyment Over the Mountain,

QUEBEC, CANADA,
Aug. 30, 1903.

EDITOR NUGGET:

I have been trying to get over here in this beautiful mountain country on a fishing trip several years, and at last made the break and landed safe with my wife and little ones Friday the 28th. I am stopping at the Hotel De-Woody Avenue, and Mr. Grant Woody is the proprietor, and I want to say that Grant certainly knows how to entertain his guests. He feeds us on fried chicken four times a day, and everything else that mortal here below could wish for, and even calls at our door every morning with a glass chuck full and running over, with sugar and a spoon and it ready mixed. And by the time the second bell rings you feel that you love everybody, and that you haven't got an enemy in all this big world of ours. When you get to the table you are just in a condition to eat the horns off of a billey goat, and Grant knows how you feel, and is ready and well prepared to satisfy your every wants. Good water, fine mountain trout, fine scenery, Grant Woody and a glass chuck full and running over, with sugar and spoon and it ready mixed. My, my. This is a beautiful country, and it seems now that I love everybody over here, and I can't make up my mind to leave. Mr. Editor, if you ever want to take on a real outing spell, just head your team for Grant Woody's and you will have the best time of your life.

Just throw yourselves in the hands of Grant and let your wants be known and I guarantee that Grant will satisfy everyone. He is champion trout fisherman of this whole country. He knows every pig trail, and all the best fishing ground, and you only have to let Grant know what you want, for he is ready at all times to administer to your wants. I was delighted Saturday evening (after catching trout all day and upon my return) to find the NUGGET on my desk with several other weekly papers, and I wish to say right here Mr. Editor, that the NUGGET is the weekly paper of the State. I have yet got to see the weekly that is it's equal. Hotel De-Woody, Grant Woody Pro-ice cool water, fine mountain scenery, mountain trout, chicken four times a day, a glass chuck full every morning before the second bell, and if you are going out for fish, and are a little afraid of snakes, you can have your flask filled free of charge, and for fear you will get snake bit then, take your medicine before hand, and be sure that you have another flask ready in case you really do get bit, but the truth is I never saw but one little mealy snake up here, and he was a moccasin. In my next I will tell you about my trip up on the Blood Mountain, and my second days fishing, &c.

Yours,
J. T. M

The roads throughout the country are receiving attention, some of them being put in very good condition. The road law is a hardship on a poor person having nothing to travel them, is why they are neglected. The sixteen-year-old boy possessing nothing has to put in just as many days as the richest man in the county, not over road age. The law requires a person to begin at 16 and work 9 days (16 days in some counties) till he is 50, making a total of 216 days. Many years ago each wagon was taxed so much for road purposes. This was much fairer on the poor man or boy than the present law.

Auraria School Patrons.

With the exceptions of a few the patrons of our school have all been giving the school very good attention and we praise them for it. It is our only hope of making our community better. When the community at large neglects their school just that soon their community goes to degrading. It is true regardless of who denies it.

As we stated last week we will give names of all the patrons and names of pupils each sent: Mr. W. J. Free; Dot, Carl and Sallie; Mr. Jno. Norrell; Clara, Maggie and Rufus; Mr. B. F. Christian; Garland, Frank and Charley; Mr. J. W. Bell; Elith, John and Charley; Mr. John H. Sammerour; Annie, Milda and Kate; Mr. Trammell; John, Rosie and Carl; Mr. Wm. Hutcheson; Lizzie, Howard, Bell, Lou and Melle; Mr. Grif Davis; Annie, Gaudy and Bertie; Mr. Reeves; Hubert, Henry and Berta; Mr. Bob Poston; Missouri; Mr. Jack Norrell; Azza, John and Bala; Mr. Woody; Van, Eta and George; Mr. J. F. Miller; Edlie and Howell; Mr. Jno. Walker; May; Mr. Hulsey; Carlos, and Marcus; Mr. H. S. Brackett; Grady; Mr. Bruce; Grenah and Adell.

Those above are the ones that have been attending regular. We have more names but their attendance has been irregular.

The Jury System.

What is needed in this country is a more enlightened jury system and judges who will see that juries are not brow-beaten into rendering verdicts not in keeping with the extent of the crime for which outlaws are tried. There is too much carelessness in the drawing of jurors. The accused is given too much advantage in the number of challenges allowed him, and courts are too much inclined to allow attorneys to raise technicalities in the interest of their clients which are not based on common sense or justice. The cowardice of juries is bad enough, but it is not always cowardice which move them. It is often worse. It is often trickery, bribery, favoritism and downright opposition to the punishment of criminals. One scoundrel on a jury frequently thwarts justice, and it is not always easy to get twelve honest men on juries.—Nashville American.

Gov. Terrell has received the following unique communication from Virginia: "East Stone Gap, Va., Aug. 17, 1903.—To the Governor of Georgia, Atlanta, Ga.—Dear Sir: We, the undersigned neighbors and friends of William Hayes, of this place, beg to state to your excellency that on the 6th of this month three daughters at one birth were born to said Hayes and wife, aggregating in weight seventeen pounds. They are now healthy and sprightly and give every evidence of living to maturity. Mr. Hayes is a native of Tennessee but has lived in this state for several years. He is a worthy man, honest and hard working, but very poor. He and his wife already had seven living children to provide for. We, and several members of his family, have raised a small purse to aid the parents in raising these children. At the suggestion of some of us the three daughters have been named by their parents, Virginia, Tennessee and Georgia." There are triplets in Lumpkin county in a worse condition than those in Virginia—a girl and two boys. Their mother died and left them with a penniless father when only a few days old.

Don't Frown.

See if a smile does not pay bigger profits than a frown. Did you ever think that most any kind of an old thing, from a bull dog to a chinch, can look cross, growl and be pusillanimous, and that man only, and his kind can smile? Fact! You never saw a bull dog smile. Everybody welcomes a sincere smile, and a happy character. It was the smile that made your sweetheart your wife; it is the quality that enables the book agent to sell you a book you don't want, and is the drummer's passport into all hearts and a welcome guest in every corner of the round world.

The other day a man who was carrying the mail in this county at twenty five cents a day, received notice that he had been fined thirty-eight cents for being late, and he threw up his commission and quit the patch.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, SEPTEMBER 10, 1903

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

Gainesville is to have a cigar factory.

At Cripple Creek, Col., there is a strike and soldiers are now guarding the mines.

We learn that Capt. F. M. Williams will make the next race for ordinary in this county.

Two men carried a live rattlesnake to Blairsville last week to sell but found no purchaser.

Bro. McNalley has again adopted the patent outside and is advertising water power for sale.

Up to last week 21 counties in Georgia had applied to the prison commission for their share of felony convicts.

Michael Kres, who lived near McPherson, was once a millionaire but had to be buried by his friends recently.

Joe Grimes, said to be the biggest man in the world at Cincinnati died last week at the age of 84. He weighed 754 pounds.

Through the error of the North Carolina penitentiary board, a negro who recently died in the state prison was made to serve three years illegally.

Gainesville received her first bale of new cotton last week. Tom Irvine of Constantine, carried it for which he received 15 cents per pound.

The government has sued sheriff J. W. Fox of Tennessee, for damages to the amount of $10,000 for letting Harvey Logan, the Montana train robber escape.

The first person arrested for vagrancy in Cobb county was a negro 17 years of age, who was sentenced by Judge Gober last week to work on the public roads 12 months.

Last week an unknown negro at Amourdale, Kan., who had attempted an outrage on Mrs. Margaret Gerahn, ran to a river and drowned himself rather than let an angry mob catch him.

In New York scores of infuriated women have beaten John Nulty, because he attempted to hug a pretty girl of 14. They seem to be opposed to kissing up there and are just as severe on a kissing bug.

Brother Pierce preached the Methodist doctrine so strong at Loudsville Sunday that he is as popular with the Baptist as Carrie Nations is with the baptist, says a correspondent of the Cleveland Courier.

Booker Washington tells this story of a negro: He was employed to work in a cotton field, and worked well for a time, then he raised his hands and turned his face toward heaven and said: "Oh, Lawd, de cotton am so dry an' de sun am so hot, an' de flesh am so weary dat dis nigger feels he's done got a call to preach."—Ex.

Judging from the following notice in last week's Signal we presume that those wishing to run for office in this county next time will have to apply to the little editor of that paper. It says: "Want-ed—some good man to run for sheriff of Lumpkin county in 1904. If you are the right sort of stuff you can get there and not half try."

This is a Georgia boy's account of his father's entrance into politics: "Dad has took the stump. I dunno who run him up—but he's on it, jest the same. Dad is after an office. One paper says he's a born liar; 'nother one says he run off with a widdler, an' 'nother one says he stold a horse. When ma heard all these things she said she thought she knowed him before; but she's glad she done found him out at last, an' just wait till she catches him agin!"—Ex.

Mining Notes.

The Gorge is going to be a valuable piece of property. Besides furnishing the Crown Mountain plant with power, it will supply the Jumbo mine and quite likely the Pyrites mine.

The Rutherford and Harmond mining lots, in this county, have been purchased by Dr. W. W. McAfee of Atlanta, and Mr. M. P. Lynd of Philadelphia. A more fuller account will be given in our next issue.

At the Calhoun Mine they have started in on the sixth acre of gravel to mine with their hydraulic plant and the gravel will continue with good values. Jake Loggins and Lemley are driving a cross-tunnel to tap the old Lawrence vein at the bottom of a shaft that has been sunk to water level.

It looks as though we are going to have considerable activity in mining in Auraria district in the very near future—the Dahlonega Gold Mining and Milling Co., and the Etowah Gold Mining and Milling Co. are going to make things hum this fall. The Barlow, Sovey and Tower are doing fine.

Messrs. Frank Griffin, Tom and Ross McDonald, who have the Lockhart mine leased, are making good progress with their work. The mill has been running about a week and the plates show up well. There is abundance of good ore at this mine which lies in a shaft under the mill and can be handled at a very small cost.

Work at Jumbo Mine is progressing nicely. Shaft No 1 is down 24 feet below water level, and fine ore is being piled out on the dump. The new vein uncovered, excavating foundation for residence, is showing up finely. It has been cut in a number of places further up the hill and is now being cross-cut and ore taken out. A number of our local miners visited the property last week and all say it is the biggest gold mine they ever saw. The 12 foot vein, on top of the mountain, known as the "Pine Log" vein, is attracting much attention. All agree that it is the biggest panner they ever saw for a vein of its size. Let the good work go on. We have always known that Georgia would come to the front as a gold country.

Rev. Mr. Marks.

Notices were read in the churches last Sunday informing the public that Mr. Marks would, on next Sunday, 13th inst., at the Methodist church, set himself, right before the people of Dahlonega, by answering the charges made against him in the papers of Dahlonega and Monroe. This he has a perfect right to do. But while he is answering the charges against him for arraignment the college and the citizens of Dahlonega, as well as the cadets, in public, at Monroe, it might be well enough for him to tell why he repeated some of these things, in private, and to private individuals. We are told that while a guest of a private citizen of Monroe he took occasion to repeat the things he had said in the conference, impressing them so strongly upon the mind of a young lady present, that she endeavored to persuade a young man of Walton county, from going to the Dahlonega school, because Rev. Mr. Marks had told her family that Dahlonega was a bad place, and that the students there were allowed to indulge in drinking and other wicked practices, and that he (Marks) said that he would not send a child of his to such a college, or such a place.

Mr. Marks can, also, explain why he deferred his remarks about Dahlonega and the college, until Prof. J. W. Boyd, a delegate to the Conference and a professor in the Dahlonega college, had left the Conference for his home.

In fact, he might as well tell why he does not like Dahlonega—her college and her people. Let it all come out at once.

We hope our people—those who go to hear his explanations—will give the reverend gentleman an impartial hearing. If he is in trouble, he brought it all on himself. Our advice to him now, is to keep himself out of politics, and to attend to the things of the altar.

The Great Work of the Master Still Going On.

ED. NUGGET:
The revivals of the four nearest churches around the marble works, in Pickens county, Georgia, has been wonderful for the past two weeks. During this time there has been 150 baptized at the four churches. Thirty-eight of this number were at Marble Hill. The preachers who conducted these meetings, at each place, respectively, were: Rev. J. E. Blackburn of Dahlonega, and Rev. J. R. Stone of Dawson county, at Marble Hill; Rev. Thad Pickett of Bartow county, and Rev. Allen of Pickens county, at Cool Springs; Rev. L. T. Padgett of Marble Hill, at Long Swamp; Rev. C. A. Wallace of Forsyth county, at Four Mile.

There was a wonderful outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon many of the people in this section—upon the poor laboring class and the rich—all alike. This shows that God is no respecter of persons, that those who humble themselves, fear and love Him are accepted of the Lord.

The excellent organist, a beautiful christian young lady, Miss Daisy Stegall, of Marble Hill, left the organ, knelt down in the altar with the penitents, talked to them, and prayed for them the entire meeting, both day and night. The influence of this young lady seemed as if an angel had visited the meeting. There were many other excellent workers, of no less importance, whose names are too numerous to mention in this small space.

I was down at Marble Hill five weeks, put in every day hard at work, painting a large dwelling, and the last week and a half worked in meeting at Marble Hill every night till midnight, also worked in same on Sundays.

I left down there last Sunday morning and arrived home Sunday afternoon. I came away from Marble Hill with a warm heart for many loving christian friends of that beautiful valley.

Local News.

Our friend and patron, Mr. J. H. McKee, was in Dahlonaga last Saturday and Sunday.

Col. Charters left for Clarksville last Sunday, where he goes to attend a two week's court.

A back load of our citizens went out to Pleasant Hill church last Sunday to hear Rev. Cobb Adams preach.

Students, remember those nice college letter heads at J. E. Moore & Co., when you are in need of any stationery.

Don't forget that John H. Moore keeps all kinds of fresh meats, groceries and many other things useful in the household.

Today is farmer's day here. All who are interested in the tilling of the soil should go out to the college and hear those experienced men talk.

After an absence of several weeks Mr. G. H. McGuire, the jeweler, has returned to Dahlonaga to remain. So if you need any work in his line call on him.

Prof. Ansted has returned from Toronto, Canada, and is now following his profession at a institution in Atlanta, Ga. The professor is a fine gentleman and we are glad that he has returned this much nearer to Dahlonaga.

Every year people, in search of chestnuts, go to the mountains and cut off the limbs and fell the trees, causing this nut to become scarcer every season and if it is continued the time will come when there will be no chestnut trees. It ought to be stopped.

"What does 'Nigger Office' mean?" Inquired a stranger of a gentleman last Sunday, upon seeing the sign on top of the building. It means that the official organ of both town and county and a wide awake, up to date weekly paper is published within its walls at only one dollar per annum. Come down and see us.

Mr. Barrie Painter, formerly of Fannin county but now of Lumpkin, struck it rich this week. He received a check from Uncle Sam for four hundred and fifteen dollars as pension money. He drew six dollars a month some time ago but for some reason his pension was discontinued for quite awhile, and now he has been paid up for loss time.

There is a wild turkey hen with a lot of young ones over in Wahoo district that are going to get some body into trouble if they don't let them alone. It is against the law to kill them now and people should not be guilty of violating this section. In White county, not long ago a hunter had to pay fifty or sixty dollars for killing a wild turkey at the wrong season.

Rev. Mr. Gunn, while delivering his farewell sermons here last Sunday and Sunday night at the Baptist church, remarked during the day, so we understand, that if he had hurt any of the people's feelings in Dahlonaga he was sorry of it and wanted to go away friendly to all. No doubt Mr. Gunn sees that he has made some mistakes during his sensational sermons, who takes a different view now on some of the subjects. For instance, not long ago he spoke bitterly against Sunday mails, yet last Sabbath he sent his baby carriage and trunk down to Gainesville in a wagon.

Mr. Geo. Walker, who acted as city marshal during the absence of Mr. Harbison last week, succeeded in capturing Will Ward, who was sentenced to twenty-five days in the street clinic gang, and has two more cases booked against him. Will has been making himself "scarce" in these parts for some time, but on last Sunday he decided to take a bath with some of the boys in the reservoir down at the Hand Mue and was soon taken to a more dreary place—the calaboose. He was brought out Monday and fined $10 or seventy days in the street clinic gang by Mayor Baker, and is now working it out.

The long drouth here was broken by a refreshing rain last Monday night.

Mrs. Fannie Hatfield returned to her home at Monticello last Thursday, after a three or four week's visit here.

Religious revivals have been held in all parts of the county during the past three months and many have joined the church.

Nelsons Goodluck, col., was fined one and cost last Saturday by Mayor Baker for raising a disturbance and wanting to fight Nez Stephens.

Our old friend Mr. J. B. Thomas of the Dawsonville Advertiser, spent a few hours in Dahlonaga last Friday. John is always a welcome visitor.

Walter Anderson and Doyle Bort of Dawson county, were both up before Commissioner Baker here last Friday, charged with violating the Internal revenue law. Only one was bound over and that was Mr. Anderson.

Rev. Mr. Gunn, who has been in charge of the Baptist church at Dahlonaga since last February, has resigned and left last Monday to travel for the Monroe Female College. Mr. Gunn has some friends here who wish him success. His place will be filled very soon.

The biggest meeting we have heard of this year, was at Mt. Airy, just across the county line in Union county. Sunday, before last many who had connected themselves with that church, were baptized, and last Sunday a number of others were emersed, who had joined since. The services were conducted by Revs. Sam Waters, Ridley and Bryan.

On last Sunday all the school boys went to the Presbyterian church to hear Rev. Mr. Blackwell preach. Many of these young men had not been in Dahlonaga a week, yet they had learned the popularity of Mr. Blackwell and wanted to hear him. This shows how easy it is for a man to conduct himself in such a manner as to gain the friendship, respect and esteem of every acquaintance, and even strangers.

The grand jury should not fail to examine the tax digest of this county at the proper time. Some people are giving in their taxes entirely too low and some never return any at all, poll nor nothing else. As to those who do not return anything at all the collector could remedy this matter now, for it is his duty. Some men of this county are returning 80 acres of land for five dollars. This is not right. Let every one pay their portion of taxes according to law and it will not be long until taxes will be lower in Lumpkin county.

Last Saturday a Mr. McDonald or McDaniel came all the way to Dahlonaga from Aiken, S. C., to see the strange unknown man in jail here. He had read the account and description of this man and he thought maybe he was the one who killed his father in that state about six years ago, but after a careful examination decided that he wasn't, although he favored the murderer wanted and the mangled finger, and the scar on this stranger's arm filled the description of the one he was after. He purchased a photograph of this man at the Photographic gallery and carried it back with him.

The other night a gentleman of Dahlonaga, was telling us about making a trip through some portions of Georgia and Tennessee recently, in search of a place to locate, but after traveling for many miles and visiting various places he found none that suited him any better than Dahlonaga and returned home. He visited towns with more money in circulation than at Dahlonaga, but they had barrooms, and people were going in and out of them like bees at a gum. Such a place didn't suit him to carry his children and no doubt he will be content here and reside the balance of his days in Dahlonaga, where there are no barrooms and everything is peace and harmony.

Jim Franklin was fined three dollars and cost last Thursday by Mayor Baker for disorderly conduct.

Mr. Ben Moore has moved his family to Gainesville. Mr. Moore is a good citizen and we hate to part with him.

Mr. William Ashby of Gainesville, was up on a visit to his parents here last week in company with his new bride.

Mr. Canady of Tennessee, who is also wanting to purchase a lot of timbered lands, was in Dahlonaga again last week.

Notice.—All parties indebted to me are hereby notified to come and settle at once. This August 17, 1903. M. N. Strow.

The many friends of Mr. Paul Castleberry, who is in business at Birmingham, Ala., are pleased to see him up on a visit here this week.

Prof. Gilbert, the new principal of the public school here, spoke in very complimentary terms of Prof. Martin, the former principal, by saying that he was surprised to see how far the pupils were advanced, adding that Prof. Martin was a good teacher.

Four of our citizens were fined last week one dollar and cost each, for not complying with the hog ordinance, to-wit: J. E. Beck, Matthew McDonald, Henry Underwood and John Austin. It should be remembered by all that hogs cannot be kept in pens within half a mile of the court house at this season of the year.

Bill Dotson, after paying a fine of $15 and cost last week for disturbing Docia Beck, went over that night and rocked the woman's house and she and her little children had to leave home, so she stated to the city marshal. Bill had better quit this way of doing before his case gets into a higher court. Another thing, he might kill one of those little children and then the "jig" would be up with him and he would hate it when it is too late.

There is a man who married a woman in this county three years ago. He took her to be a Christian he says because she would visit various Baptist churches at night and shout and hallow till she could be heard a mile. But when the husband carried home a sack full of grub of all kinds of good things, she refuses to cook them and calls him every thing he says, except a white man. So he has decided to live under a different roof and these persons hearts will not beat as one any longer.

We are told that a certain young man of Dahlonaga went across the hill on a courting expedition a few Sundays ago and spent the evening. While there under the influence of liquor, and whispering words of love to his girl, some one pinned a handkerchief to his coat tail, and when he started home he resembled a fan tail pigeon. When the young man got on the side walk, coming into town, some friend told him about the attachment to his coat—he struck a trot across the public square and that was the last his sweetheart saw of him in a couple of weeks. Every sweet has its bitter.

It turns out that "Polly," the "wild man" in jail here, is not Andy Carver of Graham, N. C., who it was stated last week was believed to be wanted in that county for murder. A letter received from the sheriff there last Saturday stated that Andy was pardoned out of the penitentiary four years ago, but his brother, Jim, who the sheriff thought was in this section somewhere, was wanted for committing an outrage on a woman. On Saturday a message was also received by Sheriff Davis from an officer in South Carolina, requesting him to send a description of this man. He was referred to the Atlanta Journal of a recent date containing his picture and description, and in a short while another message was received, stating that "Polly" was not the man wanted there.

Judge W. W. Murray left for his home in Tennessee last Tuesday to be gone a few days.

The City Council has appropriated $40 out of the fine money to finish the work at the cemetery.

Another lot of stationery just received. Come to see us when you need any job work done neat, cheap and quick.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Meaders of Swainsboro, after spending the most of the summer here, returned to their home last Sunday.

The telephone men arrived at Dahlonaga this week with their repairs and are getting the line from this place to Gainesville in good shape.

Drs. Whelchel and Head yesterday performed an operation on Capt. H. D. Ingersoll by removing some of the dead bone from his crippled leg.

Charley Conner, who left this county some time ago and went down to Wayne county to live, has returned for the purpose of making the mountains his future home. We understand that his father will do likewise.

A large crowd met at Yahoola last Sunday seven miles above town and had an all day singing. Everything passed off nicely and but two persons out of the big number of people present were under the influence of liquor.

The other day two parties, about day light, were helping themselves to melons in the patch of Mr. B. K. Satterfield. The owner got his gun, pulled the trigger and from every appearance the intruders ran away pretty well sprinkled with shot.

We notice that some of our exchanges running the N. G. A. College ad. has Prof. J. S. Stewart president. This is a mistake. It is Dr. E. S. Avis, as fine a gentleman as ever walked the streets of Dahlonaga, is our notion, and a man who makes friends with every one he meets.

On the last day of August, up in Hightower district, some one shot two of Mr. John Sain's cattle in the field of John Blackwell. On Saturday last constable Ward arrested Blackwell and John Collins, the latter being interested in the corn crop, and carried them to the law ground for trial. Collins was acquitted and Blackwell made a leg bond.

As stated in a previous issue a bill was passed by the last legislature requiring all students attending an institution supported by the state to wear a gray uniform or pants at least. So the trustees decided to require the students of the N. G. A. College to wear a blue coat and cap as heretofore, and gray pants, and they are being ordered for them as fast as the measures can be taken.

At the meeting of the City Council last Monday night Mr. Geo. W. Walker was elected to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Harbison, beginning on the first of October, at a reduced salary from $40 to $27.50 per month. All the members were present except Councilman McGee, and Mr. Walker received the votes of those present except one and Mr. Geo. Jenkins got that. Mr. Walker has acted in an official capacity before, always doing his duty, and we feel confident that he will continue to do so.

City Marshal Harbison resigned last Monday night. To show that Mr. Harbison still feels a deep interest in the welfare of Dahlonaga, we give what he says in his resignation, as follows: "I hereby tender my resignation: as City Marshal of the City of Dahlonaga, to take effect on the 1st day of October, 1903. In tendering my resignation, I desire to say that I feel a deep interest in the welfare of the City, having been identified with its interest for a quarter of a century, and I hope that at no distant day, Dahlonaga will become a great city, and that her people will be known throughout the South in their interest in education and Christian cultivation."

When in search of reasonable prices in goods, visit the store of G. W. Satterfield.

Mr. J. E. McGee of Dahlonaga, has sold his Gaddistown farm to Mr. James Hendricks.

Students continue to arrive. Some who have not been with us in a year or so are back again.

Some of the young people here engaged in a picnic up at the Dahlonaga camp ground Saturday night.

Mr. Horris Smith of Ellijay, well known to many of our citizens here, was in Dahlonaga last week.

Revs. J. N. Austin and J. B. Brown have been running an interesting meeting up at Shady Grove for the past few days.

Honor Roll of Ashley School, No. 13, 4th month: Fourth grade.—Eunice Fitts. Second grade.—Florence Hughes. First grade.—Earl Hollifield.

Clothes pressed, cleaned and dyed by Winnie Jefferson, near B. R. Meaders & Son's livery stable, in good style. Will call for clothing you can deliver them.

A person can stand in the Findley Ridge, near Dahlonaga, and see the smoke rising from the smoke stack of the cotton mills at New Holland, two miles above Gainesville.

Your attention is called to the fact that Mr. J. T. Miller, at Auraria, has a complete line of fall and winter goods, who will make it to your interest to trade with him.

Sheriff Davis made an effort this week to arrest Ralph Weaver on a warrant charging him with bastardy, by Miss Nancy Calhoun. Ralph got wind of it and left for parts unknown and Yahoola district is minus a citizen.

We are requested to state that Dr. H. Palmour, that well known dentist of Daugherty, who never fails to please everybody having work done by him, will be at Dahlonaga the 15th inst. and remain ten days for the purpose of doing dental work.

Rev. N. A. White has recovered from his recent spell of sickness so as to be able to leave for home with his father today or tomorrow. Mr. White is loved and respected by every citizen of this county, and it is hoped that he will soon grow strong enough to return and resume his preaching.

Samuel Lee of Lumpkin county, is now living with his fourth wife, to whom he was recently married. Two of Sam's wives are alive and two are dead. The two that were his cousins are dead. The first one was a Miss Chambers, and not being able to get along in happiness together decided it best to separate. She's yet living. So it will be seen that Sam has no trouble in winning the hearts of women. Some of the single men who have failed to get a wife after hard work should call on Sam. Maybe he could throw some light on the subject and cause them to be able to win the girl they love best.

Rev. J. R. Gunn, pastor of the Baptist church in Dahlonaga, for the past eight months, has resigned this position, and, after performing a few months' service for Monroe Female College, expects to enter the Baptist Seminary at Louisville, Ky., in January. This step was not a surprise, but in as much as it was made earlier on account of employment by the Monroe College, which will supplement his means considerably, the Board of Deacons of the church here thought it was to the interest of both the preacher and his future usefulness to the church that he be relieved at once. Mr. Gunn preached his last sermons on Sunday morning and night. At the latter service he was greeted by a large assembly. He leaves the church in perfect peace and harmony, and carries with him, in tender resolutions the testimonials of the love and affection of his brethren and sisters of the Dahlonaga church.

The change in the weather to much more cooler is causing quite a number of the summer visitors, both here and at Porter Springs, to return to their homes.

Rev. J. N. Austin will preach at St. Paul the 2nd Sunday in this month at 11 o'clock, a. m. Auraria 3rd Sunday at 11 a. m. Davis' Chapel 3rd Sunday 8 p. m., and at Soul's Chapel 4th Sunday at 11 a. m.

Last Sunday Mr. Prator didn't attend church as usual. The yellow jackets had built a nest in some portion of his house and while endeavoring to kill them out they covered him all over, and when they went down behind his trousers and got to stinging his body and limbs the old gentleman's pants dropped off as quick as the unraveling of a monument, and Mr. Prator fought and rubbed till he killed them all but not before they had stung him all over from head to foot.

In our last issue we stated that we believed Rev. Mr. Phillips' mind was unbalanced. So enough last Saturday he was tried by a jury and found to be a fit subject for the Lunatic asylum. For some time past Mr. Phillips' health has been fast declining and no doubt his severe suffering has caused it. We deeply sympathize with his good wife who is left alone to fight life's battles the best she can, trusting that her husband's health will soon be restored so he can return and their home again be made happy as it was in years gone by.

We have seen an explanation from Prof. Stewart about what he said concerning our College. He said when talking to Mr. Jels of Atlanta he didn't know that Prof. Davis had been elected, as the trustees when he was here time before the last didn't talk like filling this chair, except by two inexperienced young men and that he doesn't mean to injure the N. G. A. College. If Prof. Stewart wishes to have more to say our columns are open to him free of charge. This will set him right quicker than by writing private letters, and with much less trouble.

Nearly all the negroes in Dahlonaga attended the campmeeting at Rock Springs last Saturday and Sunday, and everybody knowing the place will be surprised to learn that the best of order prevailed. Only one arrest was made, being a white lad of an unbalanced mind likely, carrying a pistol in his pocket where every one could see it. It is said to be the dullest meeting, chemically speaking, of any ever held there. This is one reason why they had good order. Mix a lot of whites, blacks and pop skull together and it is the crowd to get up confusion. There was so much trouble at this camp ground last year that the tentholders had about decided to close the thing out after this time but maybe now since such good behavior, they will not do so.

"Polly," as sheriff Davis calls him, the unknown stranger, who has been in jail at this place for about three weeks refusing to eat or talk, was tried last Monday and found to be fit subject for the asylum. During all his imprisonment he has not eaten but a few bites and only uttered about two words. Who he is or where he is originally from cannot be learned. For a year or more he has been lying out in the mountains of this county, Fannin and likely others. From every appearance he has had a tough time of it, as he has several scars on his person showing that he has been both shot and bruised up considerably. During the trial the court house was full of spectators. When this man was first arrested he talked some and said that he was from Germany, landed at New York and it cost him $39 to land here. Sheriff Davis told us yesterday that this man has been eating very hearty since the trial which causes us to believe that Polly has deceived the jury and knows exactly what he is doing and is wanted somewhere where some grave offense.

A Shining Example.

"Do you see that man on the other side of the street?" asked the prohibitionist.

"Who is that one in rags and tatters?"

"Yes, I tell you his life is a lesson to drinkers. I was at college with him, and he was one of the brightest, most able fellow there; but he drank. He had a friend there who was a clever fellow, too, and who never touched a drop. There was considerable good natured rivalry between them as to who should be at the head of the class. During the first term the chances were pretty equal. The drink began to get more of a hold on this one, and he began to go downhill. The second year he dropped off a little, the third a little more, and at last he graduated at the foot of his class and started out in the world, sinking lower and lower until now he does odd jobs for a living. It is shameful, pitiful. Look at his friend. He kept gaining and finally graduated at the head of his class."

"And where is he now?"

"Now! Ah—h'm—haw. I—let me see. I believe he's in jail for fraud. I—Oh, good day." And he walked hastily down the street.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Unprejudiced Remarks.

People most careful of not stepping on other people's toes oftenest have their own trampled upon. It is a true saying that the rolling stone gathers no moss. It is equally true that the one which is always stationary gathers little else.

Laughter is good medicine, but some people so overdo the matter of following the prescription that he who hears them has a doubt as to the truth of the old adage.

Some men who wrap themselves in the cloak of self-righteousness have scanty covering.

He who hugs a sorrow to his heart crowds out of his life just so much of God's light and cheer.

Don't waste too much time in bewailing the sins of others until you are sure you are rid of your own worst faults.

I have seen some shaggy dogs that were awfully ugly, but they were friendly and I liked them. The most beautiful people in this world are not always the most companionable and pleasant.

Men who wait for some tide of popularity to carry them into public favor usually make shipwreck of their lives before they reach any comfortable haven.—Detroit Free Press.

Key to the Farm Treasure Box.

Every farmer should try to make a yearly improvement in his practice, for without improvements in methods there will be no increase in profits. Let the soils be made a little better every year, and the corresponding increase in the yield of products will compensate three or four times the outlay. On the other hand, if there is a constant decrease in the fertility of the soil, the inability of the farmer to improve his soil, by reason of the decreased yield in his crops, will keep him on the downward path. Study the soil. Keep it in good heart by rotation, clovering and manuring, and success is inevitable. These are the keys with which to unlock the farmer's treasure box.—Southern Farm Magazine.

A Toe For a Finger.

A curious surgical operation is reported from Dresden, where Dr. Hahnel, who was attending a girl eight years of age who had lost the forefinger of her right hand, amputated the second toe of his patient's right foot and sewed it on to the stump of the missing finger. The two parts were then encased in plaster, and after three weeks it was found that the toe had become firmly attached, forming a good substitute for the finger.

The Modern Farmer.

Fifty years ago commercial fertilizers, guano, gypsum, superphosphate of lime, etc., were unknown in the South. Drills and reapers were scarcely heard of, and were regarded simply as curiosities. There was no such thing as rotation of crops, the sowing of clover or the use of green crops for renovating the soil. Crop succeeded crop until the soil ceased to produce, and then the land was abandoned, and turned out to grow up in briars and broomedge.

Land was then so cheap and so abundant that it required less to purchase new land than to reclaim old. This has all been changed. The best virgin soils have been occupied, and the old-time farmer finds that his "clearings" must come to an end. The coming farmer and the one who will reap the richest rewards will be he who can have the largest manure piles, the best meadows and the finest stock. Tillage must give place, to some extent, to grass, and toil on the farm, in a large measure, to skill in managing stock.—Ex.

A Millionaire's Fifteen Cent Lunch.

John G. Johnson, famous lawyer of Philadelphia, multimillionaire and owner of one of the most famous art collections in America, every working day walks from his office ten blocks to a little restaurant, where the customers perch on stools, tucks a paper napkin into his collar, orders a bowl of split pea soup and sliced white bread, spends fifteen minutes eating it and then pays 15 cents for it.

Mr. Johnson has a strong aversion to the camera and has never sat for his photograph or given permission to any one to take a snap shot at him, although once one photographer, after dodging him around for a week finally succeeded in securing a poor exposure.

Made the Flag Presentable.

One of our leading generals on his return from the Philippines brought with him a flag all tattered with bullets which he had captured from the enemy and which he showed with pride to his family and household.

Next morning this trophy was to be presented to the commander in chief. When he came to look for the flag it was missing. "Where is my flag?" he cried in consternation. "What has become of it?"

His wife brought it to him, with a smile of proud satisfaction. "I sat up all night and mended it, and now it looks nearly as good as new," she said.—Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

Why He Didn't Marry.

Phil May, the English artist, whose death occurred recently, worked in his youth on the bulletin of Sydney, Australia, says the Boston Post. Occasionally the young man would be assigned by the Bulletin people to the police courts and from these assignments he would bring back sketches, now humorous and now pathetic, that were admirable.

One of the best of the Bulletin sketches hangs in the library of Joseph Chamberlain. It portrays a thin, hang-dog man in the prisoners' bar, talking to a very mild and sympathetic looking judge. Mr. May's story of the sketch is that the prisoner had been dragged before the judge every few months for a number of years.

"Your face is familiar here," the latter now said.

"It is, your honor—worse luck," returned the prisoner.

"Are you married yet?"

"Not yet, sir."

"Not yet, eh? How long is it now that you have been engaged?"

"Seven years, your honor."

"So long as that? Why in the world haven't you got married in all that time?"

"Because, your honor," the prisoner explained, "Ann and I haven't managed to be both out of jail at the same time."

It is to be hoped that the fashion-setters will get up something at least decent for fall styles. The spring and summer fashions were simply horrid. The hats were regular scare crows, while dresses, with miserable camel hunch, were painful to behold. It will take to restore many of the dear ones back to their natural and comely shape.—Cobb County Courier.

Mental

Strain Affected General Health.

Doctor's Doses Weakened Stomach.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Cured Me.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine brings rest and sweet sleep to the tired brain worn out with the cares and anxieties of the sick room. Read the following:

"I have always been healthy with the exception of a touch of rheumatism since my age came on up to the time of my husband's last illness some years ago. I assisted in nursing my husband for nearly three months when he departed this life and the mental strain I think caused my trouble. Aside from extreme nervousness my trouble commenced with sore throat and neuralgia. My physician gave me purgative doses which for a time seemed inactive. Mental strain and the dormant condition of my stomach soon told upon my general health. I had little appetite and was soon forced to stay in bed a greater part of the time. Within a week after the time I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Tonic I was up about the house. I continued their use until completely cured. My faith in Dr. Miles' Remedies has been strengthened by experience of other people, our daughter having used Restorative Nervine with splendid results in a case of para-lysis and a friend to whom I sent a box of the Restorative Nervine reports that she has been completely cured of neuralgia by their use. I know of a number of others whom your medicine has helped in a large degree. I wish you continued success."

He Kept the Secret.

A well known uptown man, a lover of fine horses, saw a fine buggy horse which he thought he wanted, says the Philadelphia Ledger. He located the owner and asked the price, "One hundred dollars," was the reply. After looking the animal over and trying her speed he concluded it was a good trade and wrote out a check for the amount. The next day he found that the mare was blind, but this did not hinder her speed or detract from her general appearance. He drove the animal for several weeks and succeeded in attracting the attention of another lover of horses, who made a proposal to buy.

"Well," said the owner, "I gave $100 for her, but I'll let you have her for $125 if you want to buy."

After looking her over and taking a short ride behind her the man decided to buy. He paid over the money and took the mare.

When the animal was unharnessed the first thing she did was to run against a post; then, by the way of emphasizing the fact that she was blind she fell over a barrel. The next day the buyer came back with blood in his eye.

"Say, you know that mare you sold me?" he began. "Well, she's stone blind."

"I know it," replied her past owner, with an easy air.

"Well, you didn't say anything to me about it," said the purchaser, his face red with anger.

"Well, I'll tell you," replied the other: "that fellow who sold her to me didn't tell me about it, and I just concluded that he didn't want it known."

In Serious Trouble.

"Did circumstances ever compel you to associate with a superstitious person for any length of time?" asked the girl in blue, says the Chicago Post.

"Yes. Why?" inquired the girl in gray.

"Oh, I was at a resort in the country for a month with one, and she gave me the hidden meaning of everything that happened to me and of everything that I thoughtlessly did."

"Well?"

"Well, pretty nearly everything in that line seems to pertain to matrimony, and before I got away I found I had six marriages ahead of me."

"Oh, that only assures you sufficient pleasurable excitement. It ought not to worry you."

"It doesn't, but the husband I now have does. You see, we've only been married three months, and he doesn't like the outlook at all. He keeps bothering me to know what I'm going to do with him in order to get the other six."

True to His Word.

"You'll have to pay your fare or get off!" said the wrathful conductor, according to the Chicago Tribune.

"I won't do neither one!" solidly replied Eaton Jugalong, who had become tired of walking and was trying to steal a ride on the trolley car.

Without another word the conductor stopped the car, grabbed him by his greasy collar, dragged him to the platform, and dumped him off.

He raised himself to a sitting posture, tilted his hat to one side, and yelled triumphantly to the conductor, as the car moved on again:

"Well, blame ye, I didn't get off, did I?"

Treatment For Hog Cholera.

Director C. L. Willoughby, of the Georgia Experiment Station, while in Dahlonega last week, gave the following two remedies for hog cholera:

There is no certain cure he says for the disease after it once sets in, but there are several medical remedies which will give considerable help, curing some of the mildest cases, and aiding in preventing healthy hogs from getting sick by keeping the bowels clear and strengthening the system. The best general remedy for this purpose is that recommended after many trials by the U. S. Government, which is composed as follows:

Wood or cob charcoal.....1 lb
Sulphur.....2 lbs

Sodium chloride (common salt).....2 lbs
Sodium bicarbonate (baking soda).....2 lbs

Sodium hyposulphite.....2 lbs
Glauber salts.....1 lb

(Or Epsom salts, 2 lbs.)
Antimony sulphide.....1 lb

Pulverize each of the ingredients well and mix them together thoroughly

The dose is a tablespoonful for each 200 pounds weight of the hogs, given twice a day in shorts bran slop feed.

Another remedy somewhat less complicated, which has been used with good success by the Indiana Experiment Station is:

Chlorate of potash.....1 lb
Bicarbonate of soda.....1 lb
Nitrate of potash.....2 lbs

Newspaper Advertising.

Every business man who has had any experience recognizes the fact that before he can sell people anything he must attract them to his place of business.

In order to attract them he knows that he must interest them. To interest them is the principal essential.

To interest people different business men resort to various expedients. Most of them decorate their windows and display in them the most enticing bargains they offer. Some of them mail hundreds of their patrons circular letters calling their attention to what they will gain by continuing to trade with them.

However, the capacity of windows is very limited. So is the number of passersby who give them a second glance. Circulars few notice.

The intelligent business men understand this. They know that they can secure the widest publicity for their most attractive offers, interest more people and secure more trade at the smallest cost through the medium of newspaper advertising than in any other way.—Long Branch (N. J.) Record.

DAHLONEGA, SEPTEMBER 17, 1903

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

Mr. J. R. Kincaid was elected mayor of Blue Ridge last week.

A heavy snow storm fraged over Southern Montana on the night of the 15th.

The tax receiver of DeKalb has made mistakes in his books to the amount of $300,000.

Union county's taxes are 50 cents on the hundred this year—same as Lumpkins.

The dailies gave an account last week of the slaughters of 60,000 Bulgarians by Turks.

It is feared that there will be a big loss of cotton by the appearance of caterpillars in South Georgia.

The little son of Lee Smith of Coweta county, died last week of the rabies, the mad stone proved of no avail.

Reports reach this country that recently the Turks skinned a woman to see her lungs, by digging the flesh out from under her arms with pocket knives.

A Mormon elder was refused a permit to preach on the streets of Atlanta last week. He will have to look out another place or return to the home of the Mormons.

The postmaster at Theo, Ga., J. R. Jones, has been placed under arrest charged with taking postage stamps and falsifying cancellations. When arrested he carried two pistols.

Florida was swept by a severe cyclone last Sunday, doing much damage. At Miami the shed was blown away and not a scratch was left on the train standing under it. Many vessels were wrecked and numbers of lives lost.

Two widows were arrested in the woods by the police last week near Atlanta for being fugitives from the vagrant law. They will have to look them up a husband, go to work or visit the chain gang it seems.

Dr. E. W. Watkins of Ellijay, Ga., is spoken of very favorably for congress from the Ninth District. If he should enter the field it would give other aspirants a job to beat him in his opinion from what we learn of the popularity of the gentleman.

Worth more than $30,000, Geo. F. Gilbert, a white man of Ware county, was nevertheless convicted of stealing from a freight car $10 worth of over all jumpers, and at the April term of court was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary on a charge of burglary. After being in the penitentiary for more than four months he made application for pardon. The jury stated to the prison commission that it had recommended mercy and thought that the defendant should have been punished as for misdemeanor. The commission recommended that the four-year sentence be commuted to a fine of $1,000 and costs.—Atlanta News.

We are informed that the Southern railway has completed its survey of the proposed line of road to the Pratt, Baldwin & Scott Pyrites Mines, near Dahlonega, it is said that the mine management agreed to furnish 100 tons of ore daily for a considerable specified period, and agreed to bear the expense of the survey if the estimate for the construction of the road did not exceed the figures which limited the Southern's willingness to spend on such a line. It is said that the Southern agreed to build the line if the estimate did not exceed $300,000. The survey was made, the estimate of cost carefully prepared, and the figures were $235,000. From these reports, it seems likely that the road will be constructed.—Eagle.

More Church Talk.

HALFWAY GA., Sept 14, 1903.

EDITOR NUGGET:

Will you please insert this in your valuable paper? As I was solicited by beloved brethren to hold a meeting for the people at Shady Grove church, Lumpkin mission, to begin on Saturday before the 1st Sunday in this month, I armed myself and put on the shield of faith and took the sword of the spirit, which is the word of God. I left Aunt Polly and the children in the hands of the Lord and off I went. Say, these children are my neeces and Aunt Polly is my wife. So I went on and took, as a recruit with me, an old Confederate soldier of the sixties, and a soldier of the cross since 1874. So we found our way to Shady Grove, Saturday before the 1st Sunday, (this inst.) There were, as in the past, some faithful good women on hand, with house swept clean, ready to help in the good work. So we opened fire on the enemy of souls with prayer.

The meeting went on in the church until Thursday night—the congregation increased in monster and interest to the last service. Bro. J. B. Brown was by my side all the time, rendering valuable service. Other good servants of God helped and did good. That faithful, liberal Baptist preacher, Rev. John Rider was on hand part of the time doing what he could for the Master. Rev. J. J. Shel was in one day and night and preached one good sermon and helped in the other service. Other brethren were there to help with their prayers and songs. There were several who seemed to be deeply interested and came for prayers—others were seeking a better experience. Truly, we had a good meeting. There was Bro. Ed. Gaddis, with a good class of young ladies, girls and some boys that did some of the best singing I ever heard, and Bro. Ed. just helped up the people out of themselves with his prayers. A clever set of Methodist and Baptist are not to be found than around Shady Grove. Just think of their kindness! They revived us gladly and removed everything out of the way like trouble to make us feel glad, and that they did. Beginning at the great heated, Capt. Williams and wife with the young people there, we were warmly received and kindly entertained, and the rounds we went were to: Brothers L. Sain, Millar Davis, Ed. Gaddis, George Gaddis, Sammie Gaddis, James Healin, Rev. John Rider Sammie Montgomery. And in short, everybody in all that country did all they could, and more than expected, to make us happy. They did me much good. I am more determined than ever to live and grow in grace. God bless them all, both Methodist and Baptist. God still be merciful to the sinners. The writer doesn't measure goodness by noise, but by the fruits of the spirit. I never saw people more willing to hear and receive the truth than they did about Shady Grove.

In the last 30 years there is wonderful improvement in every way for good in that section. Let the good work go on until all are saved, is my prayer.

Mrs. Sammie Gaddis has some of the finest quilt tops I ever saw—one with 2,158 pieces. What for an industrial lesson?

Advaria Dots.

Another rush, fodder pulling, will soon be on with the farmers. Miss Bessie Weaver of Dahlonega, is here on a visit with relatives.

After nearly a years stay in Alabama, Mr. Fred Wood returned to his home here, a few days ago.

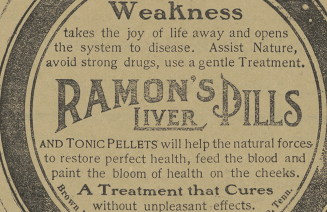

There will be an all day singing here, at the Baptist church, the fourth Sunday in this month.

Some good singers are expected to be on hand, and everybody is invited to come.

Our school closed last Friday. Mr. Branch did some splendid work during this term. Those who received prizes the last day were, Anna Summerour and Maggie Norrell.

Mining Notes.

The boys at the Lockhart are doing well. They get from five to six dollars per ton from the plates. Mr. Keenan has again been put in charge of the Ingersoll & Crismond dredge boat. He is an old hand at the business and knows how to get the gold.

At the Gorge everything is moving along as well as could be expected, and at an early day the power will be ready to start up the Crown Mountain plant.

Mr. John Higgins, residing in Cane Creek district, has struck iron ore of the brown hematite variety which is very valuable, proving that Lumpkin county is rich in minerals from one end to the other.

Mr. J. T. Grindle and others are opening up a gold mine in Frogtown district. They have already struck a good size vein which shows up well. This is the highest up the country of any gold mine yet found that we know of in this country.

As the Signal stated last week that "big work was being done down on Whim Hill property," we wish to say that it is a mistake. The Wahl heirs will not allow any work done on it. We make this statement for fear that some of them might think that their agent here is swindling.

MINING AROUND AURARIA.

Towery & Sovey are making plenty of the yellow metal on the Woody property, and some as fine nuggets as I ever saw, and no mistake. This is certainly a number one property.

Mr. J. H. Summerour, with Messrs. T. C. Parker and J. H. Hall of Macon, have started to build a mill and put in a pump on the Summerour property and good results are expected, as this is fine property.

Harry Tregent and Joe Bonner are going to astonish the natives in the very near future. "I know," for my eyes have seen and the indications are good. Keep your eyes on these two, for they are hustlers.

Capt. McAfee expects to put in a mill and pump on the Rutherford property very soon and you may look for good results, for the Captain's judgement is good and in this case it will prove to be by a very large majority.

The old Briar Patch will resume her placer work soon, for it looks as though we would have a good rain, and water is all that is needed on this fine property to bring out the gold. Don't give us out for a little bit, for we are coming. The gold is here in great plenty, and good, wise, practical management of the mines will prove my words to be true in nearly every mine we have. Diggenerology is what we need and less Mineralogist.

Mrs. Janie Boyesson, the Chicago woman wrongfully accused of theft by a South Carolina hotel proprietor, died last week as a result of the shock to her nervous system.

The state board of health will take up the work at once of stamping out small pox in several counties of Georgia, by compulsory vaccination.

Dragging Pains

2825 Keeley St., Chicago, Ill., Oct., 2, 1902.

I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groin. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.

Local News.

Now, you can bring us that wood you was talking about.

Hon. R. B. McClure of Dawson, has moved his family here into the Ansted house so he can school his children.

Last Thursday little Bob Daniel killed a large rattlesnake as it was crawling under his mother's house, two miles from town.

On Thursday afternoon a happy crowd were so busily exchanging words that not even the runaway horse on the public square attracted their attention.

Mr. J. H. Moore has just completed his nice large barn on College street and it is the most substantial and convenient building of the kind ever built in Dahlonega, since our recollection.

A very interesting meeting has been in progress at Nimbleshill church, in this county, for some time. At last accounts there were a number of professions and several accessions to the church. Revs. Higgins, Grizzle and West were the preachers in attendance.

A few days ago Mrs. H. D. Ingersoll of this place, donated to the Dahlonega public school twenty-five choice books, which will be of much interest to the pupils of this institution, and the trustees feel very thankful to this kind lady for the very valuable donation.

What is the matter with the Signal man? One week he states that deep mining won't pay here, and then the next he says that the only way to mine successfully is to go down from 500 to a 1000 feet. We can tell you. If he gets mad with a person this man's mine won't pay, while his friend's operations are all right. It is a very poor way to seek revenge and this manner of blackmailing will not make that paper any money or friends.

Contrary to law, the local trustees of the public school here have adopted a rule, allowing all children nearest this school to attend it just the same as those in Dahlonega, free of charge, which has swollen the attendance so that another teacher is being called for. Heretofore the outsiders had to pay a dollar per month. Should a new teacher be added it will bring about a law suit by some one enjoining the city authorities from collecting the taxes, is the talk is now.

On Thursday afternoon Mr. Bruce Crawford's horse got scared and ran across the square from Reese's store to the corner at Turner's. There it made a start and went on to Dr. Jones' and around the rear of J. F. Moore & Co.'s store before it could be stopped by Homer Tolbert, who was in the buggy. Some times there were only two wheels on the ground at once, but the boy held his place and guided the animal in such a manner that the driver escaped being hurt and the buggy and horse only slightly injured.

Some four years ago Wm. Shel, a son of Joel Shel, formerly of this section, but now of Jackson county, committed some offense and was sentenced to two years imprisonment in the penitentiary. By some means his relatives succeeded in getting him into the asylum. Not long ago he remarked to a visitor that he had rather been sent to the penitentiary and served his time out there. So, the judge of that circuit, upon learning this has ordered him released from the asylum and sent to the penitentiary and now his relatives are trying to get him pardoned. The authorities at the asylum stated to the visitor that he was as sensible when received as he is now, and they see nothing wrong with him. As we have often said, there are numbers of persons sent to the asylum that ought to be in the chain gang and this goes to prove it.

Fred England is now behind the counter at W. P. Price's store.

Martin Wehant, generally known here as "Red Fox," left last week for Oklahoma, so we are informed.

Some of the public roads of Lumpkin county are said to be in bad condition yet, which will give the road commissioners trouble if they don't mind.

Mrs. D. O. Jones died last Friday at her home a few miles above Dahlonega, leaving a husband and many other relatives and friends to mourn her loss.

Mr. J. W. Robinson, formerly of this county, but now of White, who has been engaged down on the Seaboard railroad for the past three months, was up last week in search of teams and hands.

Mr. T. C. Marzess brought to our office last week a couple of pens raised on his farm, measuring 24 and 26 inches. They were among some bean seed purchased and are the longest ever produced in this county.

Mr. Sosbee of originally Hall but now of this county, the color bearer of the 48th Georgia in the civil war, paid our town a visit this week, for the purpose of witnessing a pension claim for some old comrade. Mr. Sosbee still has the old flag containing many bullet holes.

A few days ago Mr. W. J. Hightower of this place, visited two large saw mills over in Fannin county, where they are sawing lumber and shipping it north. One is fifteen miles from the railroad and the other is ten. Certain lumber that is worth only ten dollars per thousand here, they receive fifty dollars per thousand. If we only had railroad facilities here, many persons who are now without any ready money would soon be worth many hundreds of dollars. These saw mill men over there make from six to seven hundred dollars per month.

"Polly," the wild man, recently found to be a lunatic by a jury, after eating some soon after his trial, is fasting again, being one of the cheapest prisoners Sheriff Davis ever had in jail. Last Saturday the sheriff received a letter from a gentleman residing in the lower part of the state said that "Polly" had visited that section first of the year and after remaining around in the woods for awhile left out. He stated down there that he was from Germany. About six or eight weeks ago this same man ate dinner at Mr. Forest Barret's in White county, also saying there that he was from Germany, and when asked what he followed replied that he didn't work. His hands are as tender as a child's, proving that he told the truth about this. Any way you take him, he is a strange being.

The legislature will have to give each county tax assessors so as to make taxation more equal. The way it is now, a few men of each county pay a big majority of the taxes where the receiver fails to do his duty by not making all come up alike. Now, in Lumpkin county, we know of men returning 325 acres of land, including their farm, for only ten dollars. Another 800 acres for two hundred dollars, and yet they have the most of it optioned to a timber company for one dollar per acre. One of the best farms in this county is only given in at $1.00 per acre, and much other property is not returned at one-fourth its value. What do these people mean? Don't they know that it is just as wrong to make false returns as it is to swear a lie about anything else? How would they feel if they had a case in court and some one would swear that they wouldn't believe them on their oaths? Every man returning property at such prices should be dropped from the jury box, because it is not supposed that they will do justice between man and man, when they are guilty of making such false statements about their taxes just to save a little money.

New folder opened up here at $1.50 per hundred.

New students to the N. G. A. College continue to come in every day.

There are now nearly 160 pupils attending the Dahlonega public school.

We have certainly had rain this week, causing all out door work to suspend.

Mr. N. W. Cripple of Cordele, Ga., came up last week to take a look at the mines.

When you want a good nice suit of clothes, drop into the store of T. J. Smith & Bro., where they can suit you both in price and quality.

Hutcheson Bros., Freda, Ga., manufacture shingles of every description. Write or call on us. All orders promptly filled.

Dr. Palmour is here with his dental tools and long experience ready to wait on any one needing work in his line, to be found at Hall's Villa.

Marshal Harbison is going to commence enforcing the vagrant law as soon as he receives a copy of the same, so as to know how to act.

Mr. and Mrs. James Elliott of Andrews, N. C., relatives of Col. Bryson, Messrs. M. J. Williams, Wm. England and others, are here on a visit.

Mrs. Strickland has gone to Atlanta this week to lay in her fall and winter millinery, and will bring back the same lady who assisted her last season.

Miss Annie Maud Burt, daughter of Mr. W. J. Burt of Bartsboro, died in Atlanta last Sunday night at 10 o'clock, whose remains were brought home for interment.

A. W. Anderson, by ringing the wrong door bell on last Monday night and causing the inmate to be alarmed, was fined one and cost by Mayor Baker Tuesday.

The ice cream festival Saturday night at the old boy's dormitory by the Corona Society, was enjoyed by all who attended. About $20 were raised to pay on a piano recently purchased by the society.

We are glad to learn that Capt. Ingersoll, who had an operation performed on his foot a few days ago in improving rapidly. The wound is healing up nicely and the doctor thinks the Captain will be able to get out next week.

A few days ago a spelling match occurred between the pupils of the Palmour school of Dawson and those of Fairview of this county, resulting in the later defeating the former. Miss Cinda Chapman, a very small girl beat them all. The spelling took place at the Etowah school house.

Rev. J. N. Austin will preach at Shady Grove every first Sunday at 11 o'clock, a. m., Jones' Chapel 3:30, p. m., (same day), Soul's Chapel 4th Sunday at 11, a. m. Rev. W. G. Spencer will preach at St. Paul Second Sunday at 11, o'clock; Peck's Chapel 3:30, (same day); Auraria 3rd Sunday at 11, and Davis' Chapel same day at 8:30.

The case of Mr. W. J. Loveless vs. The Consolidated Gold Mining Co. has been settled by the company paying Mr. Loveless $2.25—attorney receiving half. This suit was brought about when Mr. Loveless was injured in a shaft while at work for the company some time ago and Col. Dean of Gainesville, entered suit for the sum of $1,000.

There was preaching out in the country last Sunday night at Si-loam church by Revs. James Higgins and Jim Wehant and we understand that the wine used by some who attended and conduct attracted more attention than the ministers. The law compels no one to attend church but requires those attending to behave themselves and stay sober, and the people present that night should make the facts known to the next grand jury.

Mr. John Ricketts and Mr. Will Weaver are back on a visit from Alabama.

Mr. Matthew McDonald aims to have turkeys for all. He sowed eight acres.

Mr. Paul Castleberry went to Gainesville this week to accept a bookkeepers place.

You will find the college letter heads at J. F. Moore & Co.'s, for students and professors both neat and cheap.

Last Sabbath at the Baptist Sunday School, Claud England was awarded a nice Bible for good attendance.

Dr. W. W. McAfee of Atlanta, who has recently interested himself in mining in this county, came up last Tuesday.

Mr. J. V. Lance, one of Lumpkin's best and highly respected citizens, died at his home out in the country yesterday morning of paralysis.

Clothes cleaned and pressed by Alonzo Benson. Prices from 25 to 75. Located in the Clark House, at end of bridge near Dr. Stowe's office. Soot

Last Sunday night at Pleasant Ridge church after services had closed a boy and girl fought, as they were leaving. No one interfered and they fought till they got tired and quit.

The Dahlonega district has but one road commissioner since Mr. R. W. Walker has gone to Ellijay and Mr. Logan Campbell has moved to Dahlonega. Their places should be filled by Judge Huff at once so there will be no excuse for the roads of this district not being in good condition by the time court convenes.

Our friend, Mr. W. H. Courtney of White county, remained in Dahlonega awhile both Saturday and Sunday last. We scarcely ever disagree on any business except the stock law—he is for it and we are against it. Mr. Courtney owns hundreds of acres of land and it costs big money to fence it. We own but little land and have a cow, which we couldn't keep if the stock law was in force here, explaining why we differ.

Occasionally we send out sample copies of the NUGGET, and this is what a gentleman who had never seen one before says, under date of September the 12th: "Enclosed, please find $1.00 for subscription to the NUGGET for a year. I received the copy sent me and must say that I was very highly pleased with it, and if the copy is a fair sample it is one of the very best papers in North Georgia. Dahlonega is fortunate in having so bright an exponent of her many virtues and you should be proud for giving so readable a paper. It is tersely written and your paragraphs show a very high order of the newspaper art. We need more papers like yours, edited at home and speaking what the writer feels and thinks."

Last Sunday at 11 o'clock was the hour fixed by Preacher Marks to set himself right at the Methodist church here for things he had said about Dahlonega and her college while off down the country some weeks ago, but the old man's heart failed him. He felt that he had made a web and was caught in it himself and had no way to extricate a single limb, and therefore failed to come to time. After singing "Amazing Grace" and asking the Lord to "keep us from walking crooked and forgive us of all mistakes made," he arose and said that upon consultation with friends he had decided to say nothing of a personal nature today, and if any one had come for the purpose of hearing it and wished to retire could do so without being considered disorderly. This gave us an opportunity of getting out, for we don't wish to hear anyone preach who is guilty of going off among strangers and endeavoring to injure either the town or college, and at the same time being kept up by the former.

Another Letter About The Mountains.

QUEBEC, CANADA DIST., Sept. 1st, 1903.

EDITOR NUGGET: As promised, I will tell you about my trip to Blood Mountain and second day's fishing.

Sunday morning, bright and soon, in company with wife, children and two very pretty young ladies, started out on sight-seeing &c., and of course had good well filled lunch baskets with everything that was needed on a trip like this, and we didn't forget to take some glasses with us either, and I want to say right here that I never saw a more promising outlook for snakes in my life, and I tell you, I kept close to the lunch basket too. Mr. Editor, a good preventative taken in time, is worth a whole lot of curatives. I believe in being very cautious and well prepared for any emergency, especially snakes.

Well, we had a very nice time, indeed. Blood Mountain is grand and beautiful. It is worth the time and risk of snakes to anybody to make the trip and view the beautiful scenery from this lofty height. Grand, beautiful, glorious and Heavenward this stately old mountain is standing 4500 feet above the sea. We had a glorious time. I would like to camp on this piece of earth one night and see the sun rise the next morning. It is said to be more beautiful than words can paint, and I will not attempt to describe it. Now, we fished next day at the foot of Blood and Slaughter and had fine luck, and went prepared to fry our fish on the spot, and we fried them too, and Mr. Editor, such a feast, no mortal ever had. Chicken, bacon, coffee, fish, eggs, bread, glasses and a good hot fire to fry our fish, and didn't we eat? Well, just ask Grant, and he can tell you.

In looking over my notes in my former letter, I find that I somewhat stressed the full glass story, and some of the brethren may think that I have fallen from grace and I asked Grant if all the people who visited his hotel accepted his hospitality as I did and he said yes, and I want to say that some very prominent people have been stopping with him too, and the ladies were no exception to the rule, either. Why, there is a good old dutch family just below us on the creek who, after the blessing is asked, pass around the pitcher well filled, and nothing thought of it, and you never see one of them down in the mud. I haven't seen a single person under the influence of strong drink while here. I think nearly all use it, but are very temperate in its use. You find here good schools, well attended both weekly and Sunday schools, and I never saw more clever people as a whole in my life. This is a beautiful rich country, and the state ought to help build good roads across the mountain gaps, so the people could more easily get out and in.

In conclusion I wish to say that you ought to make one trip over in this country, and you will never try any other place. You will always be wanting to come back here, for there is no place like this beautiful Canada district.

Yours,
J. T. M.

If we were just a little nearer to a railroad our farmers could make money furnishing tan bark. They are hauling it from Dawson county over into Pickens now to the railroad and receive $6.50 per cord, the price recently advancing from $5.50 to $6.50. Old chestnut logs at the railroad are worth $4.00 per cord. This is why farmers and others living near the railroad are more prosperous than those residing in this county. We have plenty of bark, logs and timber but are too far from a railroad for it to be worth any thing to us now, but we hope the day is not far distant when a change will come about by the big iron horse being put to moving through this county.

The Timber Dealers.

Our city has been visited this week by Messrs. A. H. Isbell of Murphy N. C., M. W. Low of Young Harris, Attorney C. C. Cowan of Webster, N. C., and Chas. T. Rawls, Mayor of Asheville, N. C., all interested in the timber deal in this county that covers about 55,000 acres of land, recently optioned to Anderson & Jones and Tate of Dahlonega, and sold to the United States Leather Co. Mr. Low is the original promoter. While here some time ago, acting as a commercial drummer and seeing so much fine timber in this county told certain gentlemen that he would get a purchaser if they would secure the lands. Later on he sent over Mr. Isbell and the ball was set to rolling. Attorney Cowan is engaged in examining the titles now, assisted by Col. O. J. Lilly of Dahlonega.

They Spoke Here.

According to appointment, Prof. C. H. Willoughby, of the Georgia Experimental Station, and Hon. Harvie Jordan, director, together with Prof. C. W. Davis of the N. G. A. College, spoke here last Thursday in the interest of the farmer, gardener and dairyman, in among those interested residing in the counties of Dawson, White and Lumpkin, but we regret to say that the audience was composed mostly of others than tillers of the soil or cattle men. Most of the farmers of this section appear to have as much knowledge of the business as they wish and take no interest in things like this whatever, which would certainly benefit them and make the country more prosperous if they would only lend a little of their time.

The School Census.

The recent census show Lumpkin county to have 2,080 children of school age, 1,058 males and 1,022 females. 138 of these are colored, 66 males and 72 females. ## When Love Waned.

"You admit," said the attorney for the plaintiff in the breach-of-promise case, according to the Chicago Post, "that you were engaged to my client?"

"I do," admitted the defendant.

"And presumably you loved her?"

"I did."

"And yet you broke the engagement. Why was that?"

"Love had waned."

"Oh, love had waned, had it? Do you know why?"

"Yes, sir."

"Do you know when it first began to wane?"

"Yes, sir."

"When was that?"

"The first time I saw her adopt the prevailing feminine fashion of riding a horse astride. That smashed a love dream, sir, and smashed it good and plenty."

The lawyer for the plaintiff gave the jurors a quick look, and he knew then that the case was lost.

She Meant Purgatory.

A good story, says the New York Tribune, is told of a certain Catholic Bishop in the Northwest, who, while examining a class for confirmation, asked one of the little girls the question, "What is matrimony?"

"That's where we go to suffer for our sins!" was the reply of the child, who had evidently been carefully prepared for the examination. Her mother, greatly agitated, began to rebuke her: "You mean purgatory, Kitty; tell the Bishop you mean purgatory," and the child began to cry.

"Don't cry, Kitty," said the Bishop; soothingly, "you are nearer right than your mother suspects."

What the Teacher Didn't Know.

Dot—I know something my teacher doesn't know.

Mamma—Indeed. What is that?

"I know when the world is coming to an end and she doesn't."

"Oh, well, who told you?"

"Uncle John. He said the world would come to an end when children stopped asking questions that nobody could answer."

In Kentucky.

Man born of woman is of few days and full of bullets.

Never put off until tomorrow the lead you can start today.

A poor feud is better than none.

To shoot is human; to forgive a crime.

Order is heaven's first law.

God gave us bushes that there might be ambushes.—New York Herald.

The champion mosquitoes of the world, according to a traveler, are those of Taylor's Island, on the Choptank river, Maryland. They are often half an inch long and are perfectly black, with white feet. They do not sing and their bite is like the sting of a bee. People who are obliged to go out of doors wear a protection, a hoop on their head, from which hangs a netting, which is belted to the waist. They carry about them a piece of fat pork, which when applied to a sting or bite acts as an antidote. The Choptank river region is the great market garden of Baltimore, Philadelphia and other Eastern cities, and one theory to account for the remarkable size of the mosquitoes is that they feed on the splendid fruits and vegetables which grow so luxuriantly there and are thus fattened to a far greater degree than their brothers who live in less favorable localities.

The Lady and the License.

"I want a license," the Cleveland Plain-Dealer reports a lady as remarking.

"A license to be married, ma'am?"

"Do you think I want a license to catch fish?"

"No, ma'am you have evidently caught your fish."

"What's that? Let me have the license without any further words. How much is it?"

"But there are certain preliminaries, ma'am."

"I'll pay for those too."

"You don't understand me, ma'am. You want to be married, don't you?"

"Who said I did?"

"I inferred you did. At least you want a license to be married, don't you?"

"Well, I don't want to wrap up nails in it."

"That's just what I thought. And now give me the names."

"What's that! Whose names?"

"Yours and the gentleman's."

"Say, have I got to give the names?"

"Certainly; and the age."

"My age! You want my age! My age and the names too?"

"Of course."

"Well, you don't get them. If there's going to be any cheap matrimony about this affair, young man, you can make up your mind that it's all off. Do you hear me, young man? It's all off! Good day."

The Alabama house passes a vagrancy bill which is practically the same as the Georgia bill.

Grip's

Grim Grasp Caused Heart Disease.

Could Not Lie On Left Side.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nerve Cure Me.

Mrs. H. R. Joke, formerly of Birmingham, Ala., writes from Eldredge, the same state, as follows:

"It is with the greatest pleasure that I recommend Dr. Miles' Nerve and Heart Cure. I only wish that I could tell every sufferer how much good they have done me. Last winter I had a severe attack of La-Grippe, which left my heart in a very bad condition. I could not lie down for getting anything that would almost overcome me and the feeling of oppression around my heart. I had not been so that I could lie on my left side for a long time. I got your Heart Cure and took three bottles. I have no trouble now with my heart and can lie on my left side as well as my right. Formerly I had suffered for years with nervous prostration. I had tried so many remedies that I had got lost out of the way of getting anything that would help me. The nerves of my heart were so affected that sometimes it would lose beats so it would seem to stop altogether. It was on the advice of a friend that I tried your Restorative Nerve. I felt better after the first few doses and two bottles of Nerve and one of Heart Cure made me feel like a new person. My heart is all right and my nervous system is all gone. I never fail to recommend it to others afflicted as I was."

Foley & Co., Chicago.

Gentlemen—I was afflicted with Kidney and Bladder trouble for six years and had tried numerous preparations without getting any relief and had given up hope of ever being cured when FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE was recommended to me. After using one bottle I could feel the effect of it, and after taking six fifty-cent bottles, I was cured of Kidney and Bladder trouble and have not felt so well for the past twenty years and I owe it to FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE. R. A. Cray, J.P., of Oakville, Ind., writes:—"Most of the time for ten years I was confined to my bed with some disease of the kidneys. It was so severe I could not move part of the time. I consulted the best medical skill available, but got no relief until FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE was recommended to me. I am grateful to be able to say that it entirely cured me."

Reflection of a Bachelor.

When a girl won't flirt it is a sign there aren't any men around. The idiot that is absolutely hopeless is the man who sits down to reason a thing out with a woman. It comes so natural to a woman to do it that she can even brag her husband's bald head into her esteem. When a girl finds out that a man has discovered she wears flannels she can be mad with him for the rest of his life. A woman may respect a man for being able to think, but she can never understand why he wants to do it when he could have so much more fun talking.

From Rev. N. A. White.

MR. EDITOR:

I wish to express, through the columns of your paper, my profound appreciation of the kindness shown to me by Dahlonega people while I was sick.

It is very unpleasant to be sick away from home, but when you are reminded so often by the many little kindnesses that you have such a large number of friends, one almost forgets they are away from home. My stay among you has been one of uninterrupted pleasure, with one exception. I like to live in Dahlonega and love the people.

It was with many regrets that I came away. Although my work was hard, I enjoyed it. The people (not only the members of my church) were kind to me and always made me feel welcome at their homes. I shall always remember this year's work with pleasant recollections.

To those who might want to know, regarding my health, I continue to regain my strength every day. My trip home did not seem to hurt me at all.

Please always think of me as a friend to Lumpkin county.

N. A. WHITE.

Opportunities For Profit.

Do you know, brother farmer, that no other legitimate business in the world presents greater opportunities for profits than ours? Take the possibilities of kernel of corn for illustration. Planted on a piece of earth 2 by 2 by 1 feet, and it will produce two ears each containing 400 kernels, or an increase of 800 per cent in four months time. Where is the trade or business in any city which will return half so great a profit per annum on an investment? The growth of vegetation pays nature she grows rich. And if a field of corn increasing at this marvelous rate, does not pay the owner, there surely must be something the matter with the man. It is not the plant or the field, or the business which is at fault. For ever and ever, so long as the world holds men, there will be a demand for food, and every particle of it must come out of the earth or the sea. And every ounce of food is first of all, a plant. Forever and ever then, will there be a demand for plants. The growing of food plants can never cease to be profitable if the right man and correct management are at the helm.—The Farm Home.

The frost last week over the Northwest has considerably damaged the corn crop in Nebraska and Iowa.

Twenty-five million dollars worth of goat skins are imported into the United States annually.

Col. H. P. Bell of Comming, Ga., wrote a letter in last Saturday's Constitution defending lynching.

W. F. Farmer, charged with bigamy, was met by his two wives in Fulton county jail last week. This is a rare occurrence, but Atlanta is bound to keep in the lead.

The Jackson county Herald came to us last week enlarged. The Herald is one among our choice exchanges and we are glad to note the progress it is making.

The tax collector of Wilcox county has been enjoined from collecting the high county taxes, being $87.30 on the hundred. He will proceed to collect the state tax.

Chief Justice Lore of the Delaware Supreme court, has denounced lynching, but what effect will it have? None until white women can go about unmolested by negroes.

On the night of the 13th a negro who assaulted two negro girls, ages 5 and 10 years, was lynched by a colored mob. Now, those who have been discussing the subject so much, can pass a "colored" set of resolutions.

The Turks are still getting in their horrible work. They have recently slaughtered 10,000 Bulgarians and Greeks, men women and children, at Kassandra. The Turks are said to have burned 18 children to death in a baking oven at Pissoder.

Judge J. B. Estes, who is well known to almost every citizen of Lumpkin county, died at his home in Gainesville on the morning of the 16th, in his 69th year. Judge Estes was among the ablest men of Georgia, a good christian and was loved and respected by all acquainted with him.

Mr. Frank Summerour of Dalton, Ga., is the recipient of the largest check for a car load of peaches at any point in the United States this season. It is for $1, 388.84. Mr. Summerour has 50,000 trees in his orchard, of which 350,000 will be bearing fruit next year, thus enabling him to ship 400 cars of peaches.

The Presbyterians have decided to establish a school at Nacoochee Valley, and already elected a board of trustees consisting of Revs. D. J. Blackwell, T. M. McConnell and T. D. Cartledge, with Ruling Elders H. H. Dean and Robert McMillan. It will be called the "Nacoochee Institute," and will be opened at an early date.

The Comptroller General is mailing his annual instructions to tax collectors in which special attention is called to the poll, professional and property taxes which have not been returned. The law makes it the duty of all tax collectors to ascertain what property, polls and professions have not been returned for taxation, and against these double taxes are assessed. Particular attention is also called to the specific taxes to be collected.

Mining Notes.

Mr. Ainslie, president of the Consolidated Co., is expected here in a few days. Then we may expect something of interest to take place.

Up at the Gorge they have been putting in good time on the plant during the past fine weather, not losing exceeding a half dozen days since beginning.

In order to keep from handling so much sand by the Inglesoll & Crisson boat in the Chestate river the flood gates at the dam below will be raised so as to let it run off.

The work at the Pyrites mine continues without ceasing and is believed to be the biggest thing in all this country. Some predicts that in five years a town of 1,500 inhabitants will be located there.

Active work is expected to begin at the Rutherford within the next few days. Already some of the material for the ten stamp mill to be erected is being gotten out. The development work done on this property satisfies those interested, beyond a doubt that it is a number one gold mine.

The development work up at the Jumbo mine is moving along nicely under the management of Mr. W. B. Fry who only has a few hands at present. A charter will be granted the company this week. Then they will get down to business right.

Both the quantity and quality of the ore satisfies those interested that they have a good gold mine. Later.—The charter was granted on Tuesday and the company will organize at once.

Pugelistic Preaching.

The recent fight Rev. Sam Jones had with the postmaster of Cartersville, Mr. Akeman, shows the trend of the times in ministerial circles. The minister of today must be more pugelistic than ever before, if he desires to win souls for his crown, truthfully remarks the Flowery Branch Herald. The minister who gets up in his pulpit and preaches in a flowery sort of way about the beauties of the New Jerusalem and the blackness of the other place does not get the attention of an audience like the man who stands up and tells the people that they are long eared hounds and is ready to prove it to them after the benediction—with his fist if necessary or an axe handle.

Mr. Jones is a good preacher, and a good man—a man who had converted many sinners, beyond any doubt.

Let the young minister just coming on take lessons. Let him after he has finished his theological course, attend school a while under Corbett or better still under Jefferies, as a sort of post graduate course, and he can accomplish something.

The good old days when a revered man of God, ascended his pulpit and with divinity upon his face and benevolence in his eyes, points signing humanity to the cross on calvary as past. What he wants to do now is to fill his pocket with brick bats, and singling out the reddest nosed fellows within reach, calling on them to law, and cast their burdens of sin down upon the altar, and if the miserable scoundrel does not do, pelt him in the ear with a brick.

It looks a little wrong to the old staid puritanical folks who came up under the older religious regime but is the thing to do. So up to day preacher out west has adopted a lasso, and burls it out in his audience over the necks of the roughest most unconverted looking fellows, and hauls them up to the anxious seat. Another preacher or some where had scented converts by paying them to come to church.

This is a day of innovations, and it appears that religion is getting its share.

There is no record of where Christ ever hit a man in the eye, or call an offender a long eared dirty hound. He said, "Let him who is innocent cast the first stone."

An Act.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Georgia and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this Act, Section 453, Volume III of the Code of 1895, be and the same is hereby amended by designating another class of persons as Vagrants; by striking in its entirety paragraph second of said Section, line 14 to 28 inclusive, beginning with the following words: "Any person may arrest" and ending with the words, "For one year," and substituting in lieu thereof a paragraph providing a speedier method of pointing out and arresting persons alleged to be Vagrants, and prescribing a more specific procedure and punishment in all cases contemplated by this act, so that said section, thus amended, shall read as follows: Vagrants are:

1. Persons wandering or strolling about in idleness who are able to work and have no property to support them.

2. Persons leading an idle, immoral or profligate life, who have no property to support them, and who are able to work and do not work.

3. All persons able to work, having no property to support them, and who have no visible or known means of a fair, honest and reputable livelihood. The term "visible and known means of fair, honest and reputable livelihood" as used in this Section, shall be construed to mean reasonably continuous employment at some lawful occupation for reasonable compensation or a fixed and regular income from property or other investment which income is sufficient for the support and maintenance of such Vagrant.

4. Persons having a fixed abode who have no visible property to support them, and who live by stealing or by trading or bartering stolen property.

5. Professional gamblers living in idleness.

6. All able bodied persons who are found begging for a living or who quit their houses and leave their wives and children without the means of subsistence.

7. That all persons who are able to work and who do not work, but live on their minor children and live upon their wages, shall be deemed and considered Vagrants.

8. All persons over 16 and under 21 years of age able to work and who do not work and have no property to support them, and have not some visible means of a fair, honest and reputable livelihood, and whose parents are unable to support them, and who are not in attendance upon some educational institution.

It shall be and is hereby made the duty of the Sheriff and the Constables in every County, the Police and Town Marshals or other like officials in every town and city in this State to give information under oath to any officer now empowered by law to issue criminal warrants, of all Vagrants within their knowledge or whom they have good reasons to suspect as being Vagrants, in their respective Counties, towns and cities.

Thereupon the said official shall issue a warrant for the apprehension of the person alleged to be a vagrant, and bring him before the judge or judge of the said county, and probable cause be shown, shall bind such person over to any court of the County having jurisdiction in misdemeanor cases.

If, upon a trial by a jury sworn to inquire whether or not such person be a vagrant, the fact of Vagrancy be established, the said Vagrant shall be bound in sufficient security, in the discretion of the Court, for his future industry and good conduct for one year. Said bond shall be payable to the Court. Upon such Vagrants refusal or failure to give such security, the said Vagrant shall be punished as for a misdemeanor. Provided that it shall be a sufficient defense to the charge of Vagrancy, under any of the provisions of this act, that the defense has made bona fide efforts to obtain employment at reasonable prices for his labor and has failed to obtain the same.

Sec. 2. Be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act, be, and the same are hereby repealed. Approved, Aug. 17, 1903.

Local News.

Our jail is again without prisoners.

Mr. Tillman Satterfield returned from Colorado last Tuesday.

Produce of all kinds in Dahlonega is scarce and commands a good price.

Students will find all kinds of stationery at Dr. Jones' Drug Store.

The Bell Telephone Co. now has its line from here to Gainesville in fine shape.

Judge Kimsey came down last Tuesday and granted the Jumbo Mining Co. charter.

T. J. Smith & Bro. have received a lot of dry goods this week, pretty and cheap. Go and see them.

If you wish to find a cheap lot of organs, pianos and many other things in this county, look at the tax digest.

Will Ward, while working the streets found a right nice gold nugget in a gully after a rain near Hall's Villa.

Mrs. N. D. Black of Dawson county, was up this week on a visit to relatives, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Desile.

Those catching 'possums now might find it to their interest to hold up till next month, when the season for hunting them opens.

Do you want the Atlanta Daily News? If so send us $3.00 and we will have it sent to your address twelve months without any trouble to you.

John Carroll and Author Singleton, both colored, were fined one and cost — $5.00 — last Tuesday night for having their hog pens too small.

A gentleman from New Holland went up to the Mountains after chickens and eggs, but he passed back Tuesday with empty coops and no eggs. They are scarce in this country.

A fellow across the mountain the other day told the Dahlonega and Gaddistown mail carrier that our time was slow here on account of getting it from Gainesville by telephone, 25 miles.

FOR RENT. — One store house 20x40, well fitted up for a store, with electric lights, on Clarksville street, being the stand recently occupied by E. E. Crisson. Terms cheap. Apply to W. P. Price, Jr. loc.

Capt. H. D. Ingersoll was able to come out Tuesday for the first time since his foot was operated on, and ride about, attending to his business as usual. We are all glad to see him up and about again, and trust that he will finally recover.

Mr. Crof. Moore, who is engaged down at the Dunlap Shoals in Hall county, was up one day this week, and reports the work progressing nicely. The dam will be large and broad when completed, requiring one thousand logs to do the work.

At Mrs. Stricklands you will find some of the nicest millinery goods ever brought to Dahlonega. Also a beautiful line of dry goods. Miss Pearl Barnan is with Mrs. Strickland again this season, ready to wait upon you when needing anything in this line.

We noticed a certain merchant the other day with a whole lot of accounts against various persons from 10 cents up to several dollars, a year or two old. Some of these had carried their money to Gainesville for "bargains" and left their debts unpaid here. Such is life.

We will say to those buying land in this county, as well as others, that it will be to their interest to have their deeds recorded. If your proposed deal is "turned down" for this alone you will hate it, and it will be too late then to remedy it, for men paid to do business do it in a business like way.

Corn has been bringing from 75 to 80 cents this week.

There was a light frost in this county last Friday morning.

Look out! A woman was arrested in Macon last week for wearing a low neck dress.

F. L. REESE.

Mr. J. Boright of Kansas City, paid Dahlonega his second visit last Sunday, who spent some time in looking over some of the mining operations in this locality.

Mr. J. F. Moore of Dahlonega, was injured by his team running away in Gainesville yesterday. A gash was cut in his head and other injuries sustained but nothing serious, it is reported.

A man in Habersham county last week was fined five hundred dollars by Judge Kimsey for selling wine to minors. Those who have been selling it this county should take warning, either man or woman.

Children's woolen Hose, 10c pair; Lemons, 15c dozen; Lemon Extractors, 10c each; Cord Racks, 15c; 10c; Hoyt's Taleum, 10c; Large Bath Sponges, 15c. We have just received a line of Notions and Novelties. Come and see them.

City Marshal Harbison has received a copy of the new vagrant law, which he expects to begin enforcing in Dahlonega within the next few days if all others do not go to work. We publish the act elsewhere so that all may see and understand. It is very important and one of the best laws ever passed in Georgia.

Some few here who want boarders themselves, are opposed to the dormitory. We look at it as being a splendid place for a boy under age to stay, where he can be looked after and kept in at night by one of the professors, just like a parent. The college is not a local institution. It is not founded for the benefit of any merchant, boarding house or hotel, but for the student who wants an education and means to study.

Gov. Terrell has appointed the delegates to the farmers' Congress which meets at Macon, Ga., Oct. 25. Those from Lumpkin are as follows: R. L. London, Dahlonega; Daniel Davis, Bartsboro; Miller Davis, Two Run; Alfred Huff, Halfway; J. B. Stringer, Halfway; F. B. Reeves, Halfway; G. G. Evans, Wahoo; W. H. Satterfield, Dahlonega; J. R. Graham, small amount of work, which will be a great benefit to our section. The county having good roads is always prosperous. Now let us be up and doing and get in line and not be lagging behind.

The reunion at Dawsonville Friday is said to have been a pleasant affair and enjoyed by all who attended. There was no drinking, cursing or any thing occurring to mar the pleasures of the day. Capt. J. W. Woodward was the only veteran there from Dahlonega. Capt. Asbury couldn't attend on account of being unwell, but a large crowd did gather, and took much interest in the exercises of the day as they have always done in Dawson county. Mr. W. F. Thomas, one of the speakers, after finishing, stole away and got married to a daughter of the Rev. Mr. Venerable, to the surprise of relatives on both sides.

Our farmers have been putting in the last week or ten days in gathering their fodder.

Miss Eliza and Miss Jessie McAfee left for Atlanta last week where they go to accept a position.

If you neglect to pay your city taxes the marshal will attend to it for you, though he will charge you extra.

Dr. Palmour will only be here a few more days. If you wish any dental work done by him now is the time.

Mr. John Wheelchel of Anniston, Ala., who has been sick in Dahlonega for some weeks, is slowly recovering.

Mr. W. H. McAfee is moving his family to Atlanta but will stay here himself most of the time and look after his mining interests.

Hutcheson Bros., Freda, Ga., manufacture shingles of every description. Write or call on us. All orders promptly filled.

We keep blank deeds on hand which we will sell you by the single one or by the hundred, as cheap as you can buy them anywhere.

Clothes cleaned and pressed by Alonzo Benson. Prices from 25 to 75. Located in the Clark House, at end of bridge near Dr. Stow's office. Soot

Marshal Grizzle brought in Jim Bark and Dal Ferguson from White county last Friday charged with illicit distilling and both were bound over to Com. Baker.

Mr. Geo. Walker got up the other morning and missed some of his tomatoes and pepper. He located where it got to by some of both being dropped on the way. A request was made for no other such visits to take place.

We are authorized to state that the city taxes are now due and the book will close on the last day of this month. Those who haven't yet paid their taxes will do well to attend to it at once so as to save cost. See notice elsewhere.

U. S. Collector Hyman Richardson visited Dahlonega last Friday, paying his respects to some of the moonshiners, although it was his birth day—48—he had no time to lose at this season of the year when corn is maturing and liquor flowing.

It will be seen by the names and dates elsewhere in this issue that many citizens from Union, Dawson and Lumpkin counties have to attend the U. S. Court in Atlanta next month. The defendants in White have to be tried in Athens and we are unable to receive either names or dates of trials.

On our first page will be found a complete list of the money and work given for the cemetery at this place. White gravel is now being hauled and will be put on every grave, making it one of the nicest cemeteries in upper Georgia. If there are any mistakes in the amount either in money or work, they will be gladly rectified.

The most important thing that should interest the people of Lumpkin county now, is good roads. They can be had by a small amount of work, which will be a great benefit to our section. The county having good roads is always prosperous. Now let us be up and doing and get in line and not be lagging behind.

The citizens of Union county are appealing to the road commissioners of Yabola district of Lumpkin county to work out the Grassy Gap road so they can visit us. It has been in bad condition for three years. They say they have no tools. This is no excuse. Should the grand jury return these commissioners they will have to pay out enough money that would buy a whole lot of tools. We would like to know how they farm and cut ditches without tools. Our county would prosper much better if we had good roads. Now, why can't all interested do their duty?

Prof. Stewart Still Continues Making False Reports.

A gentleman of Atlanta, a former student of the N. G. A. College, in writing to one of the professors of this institution here, says that Prof. J. S. Stewart, its former president, is doing all he can against the institution, by remarking that it is a cheap school and we need nothing but an academy up here and various other things of like nature. When Prof. Stewart was employed here he sent out thousands of circulars and letters saying that the N. G. A. College was one of the best institutions for learning in Georgia, which was true. Now, how it is that a man belonging to the church, can make false statements like this we cannot understand. The idea of a man receiving the state's money to work against a state institution. It can't continue long.

Lively Times on Pea Ridge.

There was a lively time out in the neighborhood of Pea Ridge last Sunday night where Lula Carroll and Luella Myers, both colored, are located. At 11 o'clock Will Carroll, a brother of Lula, made a call and found his sister, Luella and Ida Stevens all present, together with some of their male chums having a gay old time. A game of cards was interesting them. Will made a dive for the spotted papers and was not long in destroying them all. His sister drew a razor on him and Will in defending himself with a stick or board, knocked the big lamp from the table. Then the negroes commenced scattering like partridges in every direction, except Ida Stevens. She was on crutches and couldn't get away and was the only spectator present when the battle was over, which lasted for some time, waking up everybody in the whole community. Lula left that night and has not been heard of since.

Outsharped Two Blockaders.

A few days ago Collector Richardson visited Cleveland to look after an illicit distillery, which had been reported to him as being operated by Almon Carroll and Rob. Barret. When he reached Cleveland they got wind of it and Barret soon drove into town in his buggy to watch the movements of the officer. An hour or two after dark Mr. Richardson and his guide went to their room and blew out the light. Barret soon left town, thinking that they had retired for the night and was not long in reaching his partner's house to report that no harm would be done this time. Mr. Richardson heard Barret leave and in about forty minutes he and his guide were out at the stable, hitched up and on their way to the distillery. Next morning Barret went off somewhere else and Carroll made his way to the distillery and was soon in the hands of the officer, very much surprised, of course.

The still was operated by water from a well and fixed in such a manner that no one would have thought anything about a distillery being near. The water was placed in a tank and conveyed to the still in troughs under ground just as they needed it.

The officer cut the still and threw the mash and everything he could into the well and carried his prisoner to Gainesville, who was bound over by Com. Gaston, to appear in Athens later on.

An Explanation.

MR. EDITOR:—The NUGGET of last week contained a local item relative to the graded school which was so very inaccurate that I feel sure you will take pleasure in publishing this correction. I find also upon my return home that considerable excited talk has been had, and it has been thought that the Trustees of the Public school have done some vicious thing that called for injunction and probably more severe remedies. The local referred to, stated that contrary to law, the trustees had adopted a rule allowing all children nearest the school to attend it just the same as those in Dahlonega, "free of charge," and that the attendance had been thereby so swollen as to require a new teacher, and that there were those who would enjoin the collection of taxes, &c.

At a meeting held Sept. 1st, the following resolution was adopted: "RESOLVED, That hereafter all children of school age living in the Dahlonega district, and living nearer the graded school than any public school in the country shall be received and be allowed to attend the graded school at the request of the Board of Education of the county for as much as the Public school term, upon payment by said Board of Education of the public school money allotted to such children. After attending such time, said children shall pay at the rate of one dollar per month. It is provided that such children shall be received only when it does not inconvenience nor incommode the school, and the right is reserved to refuse any such children, or to dismiss them after they have been received, at the pleasure of this Board."

The reason for the adoption of this resolution, as expressed at the time, was that it would enable some two or three very poor children to attend school at least five months, who would otherwise, by reason of their geographical location, be denied the privilege of attending any school. We were animated by a feeling of aiding some child, without expense to the town, escaping the thralldom of illiteracy. If this were a fault it certainly "leaned on virtue's side." The resolution as above adopted was favored by four members and opposed by one member of the Board, the opposition being on the ground that it was costing Dahlonega more per capita to educate her children than we would be receiving from the County Board. At a meeting of our Board yesterday a calculation was made and it was ascertained that the objection was good and in order to conform strictly to the law we would have to charge each child covered by the resolution the sum of 23 cents per month, in addition to the amount paid by the County Board, and this was done.

It will be observed that the resolution, as originally passed, required the following conditions before any child would be received under it, to-wit:

1. That such child should live nearer the graded school than any other.
2. That the County Board should first request that we receive such child.
3. That the County Board should pay us the public money for such child.
4. That such child be taught only for the public term, and for any time over that term such child should pay the regular rate of one dollar per month.
5. That we would receive such child only when it would not inconvenience nor incommode the school, and we reserved the right to dismiss it at any time. The idea being that we would at all times provide for the children within the city limits before any other were received or retained after having been received.

Now we have added a sixth condition in order that the majesty of the law might be upheld and we charge 23 cents per month extra for such child.

We have carefully investigated the attendance and we find that there are only six children in the school covered by that resolution. Some of these six are able to pay the 23 cents per month and others are not. They would have to leave unless the 23 cts. was paid for them, but this will probably be done. It can be thus seen what a "tempest in a tea pot" there has been. Six children only involved and they at the pitiful sum of 23 cents per month for five months. These six are scattered through several grades and the assurance is given that their employment will not cause the employment of an additional teacher.

So much is said at so many times and by so many people about enjoining the collection of taxes that I deem it at least a matter of some public interest to conclude this card with a quotation of the language of the Supreme court in a case brought many years ago for the purpose of enjoining the collection of a school tax. The Supreme court say:

"Mere administrative acts on the part of the local Board of Education are complained of, but it is enough to say of these that they furnish no cause for enjoining the collections of the school tax. If as public functionaries the Board fail to execute their duties conformably to law, the remedy is not to cut off their supply of money by enjoining lawful taxation or the collection of taxes legally assessed, but some other appropriate proceeding." (See 86 Georgia Reports, page 616.)

The "appropriate proceeding" relative to our Board would be, as to those of us who do vicious things and are not acceptable stewards, to turn us out. Let us be made "statesmen without jobs."

Note by the editor.—We got our information from one of the members of the Board and believed it to be correct. There are not so many incorrect statements after all. We stated that the children nearest the Dahlonega school outside were allowed to attend same as those in it. For five months they do. The school here receives each child's part of the state school money both in town and country. We also stated that the board was acting contrary to law. This is admitted by the amendment you have read. It may be true that there are only six children attending now but others have applied since learning of this rare opportunity but on account of having entered other schools were not admitted. What will be the result next year? Every child within the nearest reach of the Dahlonega school will apply, and if there are more than can be admitted how will the board of education act? Whoa they admit one man's children and not another the devil will be to play. We want all the children to receive an education and only make these remarks to show how we sometimes get into trouble by letting sympathy reach out too far. Last year there was an average attendance of 126. Now we have 164 pupils at the graded school. Four teachers last year. Three this. There's plenty of room in the corporate limits of the city. Let all wanting a full share of the benefits here move in, help pay the taxes and enjoy the blessings. Such as this will cause our town to increase in population.

After October the 1st I will sell no goods on time. All who are indebted to me by note or account, will please come in at once and settle the same.
